Another tangible evidence of co-operation upon the part of officials in Lawrence county towards the civil works program now under way, was shown Wednesday afternoon when boro, township and school district officials met with Administrator L. B. Round in the C. W. A. headquarters.

Mr. Round explained the setup as it had been given to him and asked first that the officials lay out a program of improvements that could be made by hand labor, and also asked that where it was at all possible, that the boro, township or school district be prepared to stand the cost of tools necessary to the work. This they agreed to do.

The area between the two roads entering the boro from New Castle will be parked, making the area a recreational park for the people, with picnic tables, playgrounds, parking grounds and athletic fields on it. At the present time the municipal swimming pool is located in this area and the proposed plan will make a beauty spot of it. In addition, it will add to the beauty of the campus of Westminster College in that the park area adjoins the college area.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Thanksgiving Day fell a week earlier last year than this, having been observed on the 24th.

Acting Postmaster Richard A. Steen reports that the volume of New Castle's out-bound air mail has increased somewhat during the past several months, just how much he could not say offhand. The office here, with others throughout the country, are placing more emphasis on the air mail unit than heretofore. Patrons may find full information on the service posted in the post-office lobby.

Young Pa New observes workmen are busily engaged painting the Mill street bridge.

With Christmas only a little more than a month away, Young Pa New observes that the merchants in New Castle are commencing to decorate their stores for the holiday season.

Can Now Be Thankful Says Governor Pinchot

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 23.—Unlike last year when "it was not easy to find cause for thankfulness" Thanksgiving Day this year comes with "millions of families that were in darkness seeing light ahead," Gov. Gifford Pinchot said today in his proclamation designating November 30 as Thanksgiving Day.

"Four million men have gone back to work," the proclamation said. "Millions of families that were in darkness see light ahead. Countless homes are brighter, countless thousands of mothers and children are happy again. And those who have not been helped yet have at least been given the right to hope."

"Because of what has already happened, because of what is still to come, we have all the reason to be thankful."

Father Of Slain Youth Asks Prosecution Of Accused Widow Halt

(International News Service)
PAULSBORO, N. J., Nov. 23.—Despite the plea of Sheldon Clark, wealthy Chicago sportsman and oil magnate, that prosecution of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Audrey Smith Clark, for the fatal shooting of Sheldon A. Clark, Jr., be dropped, Acting Prosecutor Lynwood Lord today was preparing to present evidence concerning the killing to the Gloucester county grand jury.

After three hours spent in questioning witnesses to the slaying, Lord said he would make no statement for publication but that if an indictment is handed up by next Tuesday the pretty young widow of the playboy engineer will go on trial "sometime in December."

The elder Clark's request that prosecution of his daughter-in-law for the slaying of his son be dropped came after young Clark was secretly buried at Clark'sboro in the family plot of the Loudenslager family, to whom he was related through his mother.

The oil magnate, and a brother of the slain man, Harry A. Clark, attended the rites. Afterward Clark sent his attorney to the prosecutor with this message:

"Mr. Clark wants you to drop all prosecution. We are convinced the whole thing was an accident."

County's Teachers Organize Groups To Talk Own Subjects

Nearly 30 Lawrence county high school principals and teachers will meet periodically in two separate discussion groups—one in English and history and one in mathematics and science—as a result of an organization meeting last night at the Shenango township high school.

Principal R. F. Conway of Union township led the math and science discussion and Principal McCalmont of Enon Valley led the English and history forum. Guest speakers from Westminster college spoke at both.

The math and science teachers will gather next on January 10 while the English and history folk will convene February 14.

At the meeting of the South Side Board of Trade Wednesday night, in the office of Alderman J. President Maurice Markley, named Alec Samuels, John Wajert and George Smith on a committee to present the resolutions passed at the meeting, to city council.

This committee will soon meet with council and present the resolutions. At the present time Big Run creek is a flood hazard. During rain periods, sand and gravel from the hillsides around Sheep Hill and vicinity are washed into Big Run creek. Right now the creek is on a level with the lowlands of the South Side. The South Side Board of Trade, feels that unless this condition is remedied, it will be only a matter of time until the South Side citizens will suffer water damages to their property.

Needs Dredging
"It is of vital importance that the creek is dredged. During a heavy rain period, much of the water in Big Run, overflows the banks, and flows on Long avenue and vicinity," Maurice Markley, president of the South Side organization, said this morning. Young Men

(International News Service)
HAMILTON, O., Nov. 23.—A running gun battle with police following the robbery of two chain stores here today brought an abrupt end to the "easy money" ambitions of two Indiana youths.

The youths, who gave their names as Howard Brown, 20, of Elwood, Ind., and Lloyd Leever, 27, of Anderson, Ind., were captured shortly after they had abandoned their automobile when police succeeded in shooting a tire of the machine following a long chase.

Brown was found hiding in the basement of a residence, Leever was taken into custody several blocks away. Police said he was carrying two guns.

Both youths admitted, police said, that they had set out on a "career of crime" in the hopes of filling their pockets with "easy money."

The car they were using, police said, was identified as one stolen recently from Newcastle, Ind.

WEIRD CHICAGO MURDER IS MYSTERY

Chicago police are puzzled over a maze of apparently contradictory clues in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Rheta Gardner Wynekoop, top, center, whose nude body, bearing a bullet wound in the back, was found on the operating table, right, in the office of her mother-in-law, Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop, top, right, well-known woman physician, in the basement of her Chicago home, left. None of the clues could offer any motive for the slaying of the pretty woman.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 23.—Private clubs furnished a temporary stumbling block today for the McClure liquor control bill as the Cordier bill imposing a $2 per gallon tax on all alcoholic beverages in this state before repeal became a law.

Smiling broadly as he remarked "teamwork did it," Gov. Gifford Pinchot signed the Cordier bill immediately after the senate passed it, finally and the house concurred in amendments exempting denatured alcohol. It was the first measure to become a law at the special session.

TO START WORK ON 12 MILES OF ROADS SOON

Construction of approximately 12 miles of new road, under program D of the highway department will be started within the immediate future, H. W. Lightner, superintendent expects, and the road system of the county will be enlarged by just that much hard surfaced road.

The program includes a number of small pieces of road in various parts of the county. One of the places is a two mile stretch in Plaingrove township, running from the Plaingrove road towards the Perry highway. There is also a small piece of road in the corner of the township running towards the Butler county line.

About one-half mile from Rockville on the Frew Mill road towards the Butler county line will be built. In Perry township there will be a connecting link north from the Beaver county line and around towards the east to the Butler county line.

In Slippery Rock township a piece of road will be built from Center church towards Prews Corners. On the Volant road near the Rich Hill church towards the Neshannock creek in Wilmington township is the last piece in the program. The total is about 12 miles.

Additional mileage on program E is being arranged and this program will be built within the next few months, it is anticipated. Weather conditions will bear on the matter of the time of completion, but with good weather, the highway forces will be busy this winter.

"I in no way solicited the appointment. I do not know a great deal about it. I approve, however, of state-controlled stores and a diversification of the profits into worthwhile channels."

Phillips' answer to his appointment was:

"I absolutely will not accept an appointment to the liquor control board. My business affairs require all my personal attention."

Former Judge Robert Gawthrop, of Westchester, is the third member named on the new board by Governor Pinchot.

Police Seize Missing Husband Of Mrs. Wynekoop, Murder Victim

ALL OF HOUSEHOLD

Dr. Wynekoop Knew Of Death Two Hours Before Case Was Reported

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Earle Wynekoop, husband of the mysteriously slain Rheta Gardner Wynekoop was seized by police today when he appeared suddenly at the home of his mother, Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop, scene of the murder.

Young Wynekoop, hatless, carrying a heavy suitcase, entered the back door of the big three story house. As he walked to the front of the house, a policeman on duty there seized him by the arm. He led him to the front door and thence into an automobile which was driven rapidly away, presumably to the Filmore police station.

Wynekoop's appearance halted a nation-wide search Chicago police had instituted for his apprehension for questioning in connection with the operating table murder of his pretty young red-haired wife.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Solution of the mysterious murder of Rheta Wynekoop, found slain on the operating table of her physician-mother-in-law, Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop, was declared imminent today.

"The solution to the murder of Rheta Wynekoop rests between the mother-in-law and the missing husband," Detective Chief William Schoemaker declared. "We have practically established that the girl was slain after she had partaken of the evening dinner at the Wynekoop home and that the killing was done by someone in the household."

Hunt Missing Husband
Following Chief Schoemaker's sensational declaration, police launched an intensive search for Earle Wynekoop, the missing son of Dr. Wynekoop and husband of the slain girl. Young Wynekoop was last seen in Kansas City last night when he booked passage to Chicago on an airplane.

Stanley Young, companion of the murder victim's husband, now in custody of Kansas City police, said Wynekoop had telephoned him last night that he was going to Chicago. Young told police he went to the airport with Wynekoop, but that his

WARBURG OPPOSES U. S. MONETARY POLICY

New York Banker Gives Attitude

Former Member Of "Brain Trust" Opposes Balanced Dollar Program

PROF. IRVING FISHER SUPPORTS MOVE

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—James P. Warburg, New York banker and former member of the president's "brain trust" who resigned as financial adviser to the American delegation at the London economic conference last July, today stood with those opposed to the administration's present monetary policy.

At a symposium conducted by the American Academy of Political and Social Science last night, Warburg condemned the president's dollar devaluation policy and urged instead a "modernized" international gold standard.

The administration's policy was defended by United States Senator Elmer Thomas, of Oklahoma, and Professor Irving Fisher, of Yale university, "father" of the managed dollar. Warburg's views were seconded by Dr. E. Cyril James, professor of finance at the University of Pennsylvania.

Warburg said he was compelled to withdraw from the London conference when he found the administration changing its policies in the midst of the sessions by deserting the gold standard and espousing the balanced dollar.

PINCHOT SIGNS BILL TAXING ALL LIQUOR IN STATE

the administration measures establishing a liquor control board and the Bann new beer tax, were up for second reading in the senate. Amendments made in the house to the control legislation, removing all restrictions from the sale of liquor in clubs, pointed the measure back toward committee for further consideration.

Passage on second reading was anticipated for all three bills before the McClure measure is sent back to committee for revision of the club-retailing provisions. The senate proposes to adjourn today until Monday. The house is in adjournment for the week.

Under the bill as now written, clubs could retail liquor at any time over an old-fashioned bar with no dining room necessary at the organization's headquarters.

No Bar Rooms. Governor Pinchot will veto any bill permitting the return of the bar or the saloon in any form. In this connection it was pointed out that unless the bill is changed any group of persons could establish a club and run it merely as a subterfuge for a "legitimate speakeasy" or saloon.

Friends of the governor asserted persons desiring of evading provisions of the bill could establish clubs promiscuously. For a nominal fee, keys to these establishments could be passed out indiscriminately to "members" and the commonwealth would have no jurisdiction over the sale of liquor therein.

Legislative leaders who have been conferring with the chief executive for weeks have agreed to let the senate finance committee remove the objectionable features.

Promote Court Test. Governor Pinchot originally estimated that $25,000,000 would be raised from the Corder bill but since has stated distillers are removing liquor from the state at the rate of 900,000 gallons a day. Distillers, who claim the $2 tax will force them to remove their plants to other states, promise a court test of the act.

The administration plans to allocate $5,000,000 of the floor tax to schools, $8,000,000 to finance old age pensions and $10,000,000 for state public works fund. Only $667,000 of the public works money necessarily must be paid out during this biennium. Bills for these allocations are now in the legislature.

Delay On McClure Bill. HARRISBURG, Nov. 23.—Hopes of passing the McClure liquor control bill finally this week were shattered reading in the senate and then was returned to committee for elimination of objectionable features.

In a session lasting only 13 minutes, the upper chamber also approved the Scott control board bill, Spann beer tax bill, and the measure repealing a four-mill tax on interest bearing accounts before returning them to committee. The senate then adjourned until Monday night.

The McClure bill was returned to committee under a pre-arranged agreement between Gov. Gifford Pinchot and legislative leaders to place some restrictions on the sale of liquor in clubs.

MURDER MYSTERY IN CHICAGO, NEAR SOLUTION, CLAIM

companion had decided against the trip to Chicago when informed the weather was "rough".

Meanwhile Police Captain John Stege added one more sensation to the amazing chain of circumstances when he made the terse prediction that "I'll have a confession before this day is done."

After questioning members of the family all night and most of the morning, Captain Stege announced that all indications point to the murderer as a person in whom Rheta Wynkoop had absolute confidence.

Mystery Unexplained. A circumstance that police are unable to explain as yet is why young Wynkoop did not visit his wife, although he was known to have been in Chicago several days and apparently had departed by automobile before Mrs. Wynkoop was slain.

Still another development today was the discovery, police say, of chloroform burns on the slain girl's face. A chloroform mask was also found, leading investigators to suspect that the victim had been anaesthetized before being shot in the back.

Dr. Wynkoop and members of her household, meanwhile, were virtual prisoners in the strange house, scene of the bizarre slaying, police on guard, and members of the family were forbidden to go into the basement medical quarters, where the victim's body was discovered.

Calmly Discusses Play. Chicago, Nov. 23.—While pretty Rheta Gardiner Wynkoop's murdered body lay undiscovered on an operating table below, the two living occupants of the darkened 16-room Wynkoop mansion were discussing Eugene O'Neill's moody drama, "Strange Interlude."

This was elicited from Dr. Alice Wynkoop, prominent woman physician and civic leader, as police questioned her and a school teacher companion, Miss Enid Hennessey, far into the early hours today.

Dr. Wynkoop told Police Captain John Stege that she had sent her daughter-in-law out to a neighborhood food shop on the afternoon of the girl's mysterious murder.

While Rheta was away she left on a shopping trip herself, returning about five p. m. The young wife was missing when Dr. Wynkoop returned and began a search of the house, but did not then enter her ground floor office where the body was later discovered, stripped of its clothes and swathed in a blanket.

Dr. Wynkoop then prepared dinner for herself and Miss Hennessey, a roomer at her home. Rheta's absence caused her to worry, she said, because the girl was wont to stay home.

Dinner completed, the two women went to the library in the spacious home and talked. The subject of their conversation swung to the O'Neill drama of conflicting emotions and personalities, the physician told Capt. Stege.

"I asked her if that was the sort of thing she was showing her students in high school," Dr. Wynkoop told the police investigator.

"She said, 'No, I bought the book for my own reading.'"

Tells Different Story. However, Miss Hennessey under questioning told a different story of their discussion of the O'Neill drama, stating that Dr. Wynkoop pressed their analysis of the elements of "Strange Interlude."

"She insisted on discussing it and its underlying motives. She said it was what people thought and not what they said that counted."

"I told her I was not particularly interested in discussing it," Miss Hennessey complained of stomach pains and the physician went to her basement office for some medicine, where she came upon the murdered body.

"I saw the body lying on the table," she explained. "I lifted up the blanket and saw it was Rheta, and saw the bullet hole. I replaced the blanket and went upstairs."

"Why didn't you tell Miss Hennessey of your discovery?" Stege asked. "I was afraid she would be upset and would be unable to sleep that night," was the reply.

She then summoned her daughter, Dr. Catherine Wynkoop, by telephone. An undertaker was later called and police were notified approximately two hours after the gruesome discovery.

New Clues. CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Uncovering new clues, among them three blood-stained blankets and a chloroform mask, authorities today gristly questioned members of the grimy household of Dr. Alice Wynkoop for a solution to the "operating table" murder of Mrs. Rheta Gardner Wynkoop, 24-year-old beauty.

Dr. Wynkoop, prominent 62-year-old woman physician and mother-in-law of the slain beauty, was held in technical custody of police until the early hours of today along with two other residents of the 16-room mansion where the young wife was shot and killed.

The arrest of Earle Wynkoop, the dead girl's husband, was ordered at Kansas City when Supervising Police Captain John Stege traced his movements and learned that young Wynkoop was in Chicago a Tuesday before the murder last Tuesday. He had previously been reported in Arizona on a picture-making expedition.

Discovery of the blood-stained blankets and the chloroform mask indicated, Capt. Stege said, that the girl wife had been murdered by someone in whom she had placed complete confidence. Mrs. Wynkoop had presumably dozed on the operating table, as though for a medical examination, had the anaesthetic applied to her face and then was shot through the heart while under the effects of ether, Stege asserted.

$5,000 Insurance. Dr. Wynkoop insisted she had not been informed that her daughter-in-law's life was insured for $5,000, double indemnity, although Dr. Wynkoop was the beneficiary. Disclosure of the insurance policy was made at the inquest after the woman physician stated that her son's wife was not insured.

Investigation disclosed that four deaths have occurred in the strange Wynkoop household in the last four years. Dr. Frank Wynkoop, the woman physician's husband, died suddenly in January, 1929. Next to die was an adopted daughter, Mary Louise, who succumbed last March to an ailment.

Miss Catherine Porter, a splinter-patient whom Dr. Alice Wynkoop had been treating, died later. She and the woman physician had shared a $2,000 bank account. Then came the death of the 85-year-old father of Miss Enid Hennessey, a school teacher. Both were residents of the house.

Deaths of the Day

J. Ernest Rodgers Funeral.

The Epworth M. E. church was filled to capacity with mourning friends of the late James Ernest Rodgers of 840 Franklin avenue, for the funeral services conducted by Rev. J. A. Galbraith, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. Clifford S. Joshua, pastor of the Croton M. E. church, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

A great number of floral tributes added to the indication of esteem in which the prominent business man was held by his many friends. Members of the Retail Grocers' association, of which the deceased was a member, attended in a body.

Palbearers were Charles Rodgers, Jesse Rodgers, O. A. Rodgers, John Rodgers, Wesley Miller and Clare Walton.

Interment was made at Graceland cemetery.

Delmer V. Green.

A life-long resident of Lawrence county, Delmer V. Green of the Harbinger road, died in his home at 4 a. m. today from complications which followed a long illness.

Mr. Green was 65 years of age. He was born in the home in which he died, the son of Alexander and Rebecca Hunt Green, on March 7, 1868. He was engaged in the farming occupation, had an unusually large number of friends by whom he was loved and respected. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church of New Castle.

Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Nannie Conn Green; two daughters, Verna at home and Mrs. Joseph D. Smith of Wilmington avenue; two brothers and two sisters, George and Harry Green of Neshannock township, Mrs. Louise Snyder of Butler and Mrs. Carrie Covert of New Castle.

Funeral services will be conducted from the late residence on Saturday at 2:30 p. m. Dr. Walter E. McClure, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will be in charge.

Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Robert Ramunno Funeral.

Funeral services for little Robert Eugene Ramunno, North Wayne street, were held this morning in St. Lucy's church with the Rev. Fr. Ippolito officiating.

Interment was made in St. Lucy's cemetery. Palbearers were: Enrico DeLisio, Henry, Arthur and Domenico Ruzzo.

Frank Nicoletti Funeral.

At nine o'clock this morning, a large number of friends and relatives of the late Frank Nicoletti, of Barclay Place, gathered at St. Vitus church for the last rites. Requiem high mass was conducted by Rev. Fr. N. DeMita, pastor of the church. The church was filled with numerous floral tributes.

A group of friends of the deceased acted as palbearers.

manufactured in this state before repeal. As soon as the governor placed his signature on the bill last evening, state policemen patrolled border lines to prevent the transportation of alcoholic beverages into boundary states. Since the bill was introduced, distillers have made every attempt to get their manufactured products out of the state to escape what they call an "exorbitant tax."

Despite threats of court tests of the constitutionality of the law, revenue agents were to take inventories of the stock in all distilleries throughout the commonwealth today.

COUNTY PROJECTS TO PROVIDE WORK BEING OUTLINED

improved as its first project. This was presented by W. C. Sontum and when the detailed sketch is presented it will likely be approved immediately.

Ellwood City has a number of projects it wants done under the C. W. A. program and Lowell Monroe, Boro Manager, conferred with Mr. Round today on the proposed projects. Other boros and townships are preparing plans for improvements and they will be started as soon as it is humanly possible.

City Preparing Plans. City Engineer Harry Hoskins has a list of projects that can be included under the program and is working on the detail of them today. They include projects in all parts of the city and will employ many men. Among them will be Dean Park, Gaston Park and Cunningham Park improvement.

Attention is again called to the utility of applying at the office of the Civil Works Administrator for positions. Mr. Round is not giving away jobs, but is directing the work of making the public improvements. The men are drawn from the lists of the Federal Employment Bureau in the Johnson Building. No registration is being made in the C. W. A. offices in the Woods building nor of jobs being handed out there.

Today the schedule wage rates is being adopted. Where men are used on skilled work in which they are craftsmen, the prevailing rate will be paid it was announced.

An effort is being made today by Mr. Round to call more men for duty before December 1. While the calls will be frequent and large after December 1, it was felt that up until that time the organization would not be sufficiently welded to permit starting many projects. However unusual speed has been made in getting the work under way and if it meets with the approval of the State Administrator, men will be called here immediately.

The compensation for all work done under the C. W. A. program is in cash, paid every Saturday night, with the men spending the money for the things they need, at the stores they themselves select.

If the land is cock-eyed, it got that way looking down on wickedness while looking up to the million it made.

Still, necking as a substitute for conversation is about as intellectual as looking at the family album.

Originality doesn't make you conspicuous. You never see the man who originates the dirty jokes.

CIRCULATING BOOK CLUB LADIES GUESTS

Mrs. E. E. Seavy of Highland avenue entertained the circulating book club members in a delightful manner Wednesday afternoon. Kensington and chat filled in the time, and the usual exchange of books occurred.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, bringing a most enjoyable meeting to a close. In two weeks Mrs. John Elder of East street will extend hospitality to the members.

Easy-Aces Entertained
Mrs. Anna Hoffman of 1410 Highland avenue received the Easy Aces Club members in her home Wednesday evening for an informal social time. Cards filled in the hours and the high honor score was held by Cecile Spargo.

In serving a dainty repast the hostess was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Grace Skelton. The menu was enjoyed by candle light at the dining room table, attractively decorated with a centerpiece of baby mums.

In two weeks Miss Hanna Richards of Winter avenue will receive members.

T. O. T. Club
Miss Colette Priesel of Etna street entertained the T. O. T. Club in her home Wednesday evening. Card prizes were awarded the Misses Anna Wilson and Kathryn Ritchie.

Miss Ritchie was presented with a shower of beautiful handkerchiefs in honor of her birthday anniversary. At a seasonable hour a delicious luncheon was served. Plans for a Christmas party, to be held December 13, were made.

Lunch Guests
Mrs. J. C. Boles, of Winslow avenue, entertained a group of women in her home Wednesday noon at lunch. Following dinner the gathering enjoyed music. The women spent a very sociable afternoon discussing different topics.

KENSINGTON PLANS CHRISTMAS PARTY

Mrs. Elmer Brown of Highland avenue entertained as guests Wednesday afternoon members of the N. H. B. Kensington. The usual routine was conducted and plans were made for their annual Christmas party. This is to take place on December 20 at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Martin on Albert street.

At the appointed hour the hostess served a lunch. In two weeks the associates will meet again in regular session at the home of Mrs. H. T. Cooper on Meyer avenue.

COUNCIL WOMEN PLAN ANNUAL BALL
Mrs. Hazel Rosenblum Marks, president of the New Castle Section Council of Jewish Women announced that all plans are completed for their annual ball in the New Castle Field Club Tuesday, November 28. Dancing will continue from 10 p. m. to 1 a. m.

This promises to be one of the big Thanksgiving social events and many of the younger set, home from school for the holiday.

The committee aiding Mrs. Marks in arrangements includes: Mrs. Ted Marlin, Mrs. J. Raffel, Mrs. H. Newman, Mrs. J. Kulkin, Mrs. H. Cukerbaum, and Mrs. William Blau.

Berkmah Bridge Club
Mrs. Catherine Van Dyke received members of the Berkmah Bridge Club Wednesday evening in her home on Meyer avenue for their regular social session. Cards passed the hours away and prizes for honor scores were awarded to the Misses Dolores Gould and Rose Gahagan at conclusion of play.

A special feature of the meeting were the handkerchief showers tendered Mrs. Dorothy Herzog and Mrs. Van Dyke in remembrance of their birthday anniversaries.

Mrs. Charles Anderson, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a special guest of the occasion, was recipient of the hostess gift.

In serving lunch, the hostess was assisted by Miss Muriel Edmunds. The table appointments were nicely arranged with bouquets of baby mums and roses.

In two weeks Miss Ann Eagan of Croton avenue will entertain.

G. K. W. Club

CERCLE ROYALE BRIDGE MEMBERS ENTERTAINED

Last evening, Dr. and Mrs. George S. Jenkins of 710 1/2 East Washington street, extended hospitality to associates of the Cercle Royale Bridge club in their home. The hours were devoted to card contests, with the prize for honor score being awarded to Mrs. Walter Gilmore. The serving of an appetizing repast by the hostess brought the evening to a close.

In two weeks Mr. and Mrs. Harold Simpkins of 707 Young street, will be hosts.

Frankovich-Pagach
Monday morning at nine o'clock a pretty wedding was solemnized in the St. Phillips and St. James church, when Miss Jane Frankovich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Frankovich of Chartes street, became the bride of Cyril Pagach, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Pagach of Cliff street. Rev. V. Stanciewicz officiated in the presence of a large crowd of friends and relatives of the couple.

Miss Estella Frankovich, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. The groom was attended by his brother, George. Miss Frances Grata was the bridesmaid. Mike Young served as an usher.

Following the ceremony about 300 relatives and guests enjoyed a sumptuous dinner, served in the bride's home on Chartes street. In the evening a reception took place in the Polish Falcon hall. Dispensing with a honeymoon trip for the present, the bride and groom will go home to their friends in their apartment on Wallace avenue.

Section Luncheon
Mrs. Jennie Shaffer, Butler avenue, pleasantly received the members of Section E of the Y. L. B. class of the Third United Presbyterian church in her home Wednesday for an all day quilting and luncheon, at which she was assisted by Mrs. J. A. Wilson and Miss Anna Mehard.

After the luncheon hour a business meeting was called and many items of interest were discussed.

December 6, Mrs. Fred Sturdevant, Morton street, will be hostess to the group for an all day meeting and luncheon.

L. A. P. Club
Mr. Karl Kahner of Laurel boulevard entertained Wednesday afternoon, eight members of the L. A. P. Club for their usual social session. Tables of cards formed the pastime. Mrs. E. Hood and Mrs. Paul McAnis were winners of the prizes for holding honor scores.

Refreshments were served at the appointed hour, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. Jack Pitzer with the menu.

Mrs. William Hamill of Huey street will entertain on December 8.

Luncheon Party
Mrs. James Boles, Winslow avenue, entertained a number of friends at a luncheon Wednesday, with Virginia Specht assisting her in serving a delicious menu.

Places were arranged for Mrs. George Massie and her daughter, Mrs. John McKeever, Mrs. Ben Jones, Mrs. L. R. Specht and her daughter, Virginia, and the hostess. Fancy work and chatter filled the afternoon hours.

P. A. L. S. 500 Club
Miss Gay Anderson of West Madison avenue entertained the P. A. L. S. 500 club members in her home Wednesday. Miss Edith Carnes and Miss Peggy Wilkinson were prize winners for honor scores.

Lunch was served at a late hour by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Mac Solomon.

On December 13 Miss Carnes of Wayne street will entertain.

EVENING TEA PARTY IN ST. ANDREW'S

One of the most beautiful and most successful parties ever held in St. Andrew's Episcopal church, East Long avenue, was that of Wednesday evening when the Girls Friendly Society entertained members and friends at a tea.

Twenty two small tables were arranged about the room, which had been newly decorated and beautified by the addition of lamps, flowers and rugs. Each table held a burning taper and the program was enjoyed by candle light.

The program included readings, "Thanksgiving Dinner" and "Trees" by Gloria Pauline; vocal number, "Two Little Girls in Blue" by William H. Evans; reading, "Dark Brown Diplomat" by Vivian Jones; vocal number, "Good Night, Little Girl of My Dreams" by Betty Lou Hartland, accompanied by Edith Cowden.

John Hitchen sang "Queen of the Earth"; Fred Riley gave a musical sketch, "Memories" assisted by Florence Hitchen as the sweetheart and Marion Williams as the mother; Miss Anne Hitchen sang "Sylvia".

A splendid pantomime was presented "True Love Rewarded" with Edith Cowden as the reader. Jane Smith took the part of Betty Hunter; Elizabeth Fleeher, Mrs. Plushmore; Mildred Fleeher, Ronald, the son; and Betty Lou Hartland as Nettie, the maid. Refreshments followed the program.

The arrangements for the event were looked after by Miss Anne Hitchen, assisted by Mrs. William Wignall, Mrs. Ada Riley and Florence Hitchen, in charge of the art table; Jane Jones, Anna May and Jean Hartland in charge of sweets; Edith Cowden, Elizabeth Fleeher and Betty Lou Hartland in charge of entertainment and Ben Penny in charge of transportation.

Saerema Club Guests
On Tuesday evening Miss Victoria Micco entertained in a pleasing manner, members of the Saerema Club at the home of her sister, Mrs. Joseph Panella on Beckford street. Bridge formed the diversion and at conclusion of play Miss Jean Norris and Miss Mary Roman were given prizes for their success.

Later in the evening the guests were invited into the dining room where a tempting menu was served by the hostess mother, Mrs. P. A. Micco. Mrs. Panella assisted by Mrs. Andrew Micco and Mrs. Carlisle Kaner.

Plans were made for the next meeting to take place on Wednesday, December 6 at the home of Miss Norris on Randolph street.

Roundup Club
Mrs. William Dugan, of Garfield avenue, was hostess to the members of the Roundup Club in her home last evening when cards were the diversion.

Mrs. Ruth Fulkerson and Mrs. Judie Lichtenstein won high score honors, and were presented with lovely favors.

Mrs. Dugan served delicious refreshments at a beautifully appointed table.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Donna Griffith, of Sheridan avenue.

Jolly Dutch Club
Mrs. Fred Brundert of East Reynolds street was hostess Wednesday evening to the Jolly Dutch club members. The prizes for card honors were presented to Mrs. M. Leonhardt and Carl Leis at conclusion of play. Following the serving of refreshments by the hostess, they adjourned.

In two weeks Mrs. Carl Leis of Shenango township will entertain.

MRS. C. J. BAKER GIVEN FAREWELL

As a farewell courtesy to Mrs. C. J. Baker, who will spend the winter months at St. Cloud, Fla., Mrs. Ralph Baker entertained thirty neighbors and friends Tuesday evening at a surprise affair in her home.

Mrs. Baker was given a shower of lovely handkerchiefs as a parting gift and the evening hours were whiled away with music and games.

A delicious lunch climaxed the evening, with Mrs. Claude Moore and Mrs. Lloyd Jenkins assisting the hostess.

Presented in Recital
Last evening Mrs. David Duff Scott presented her younger students in an autumn concert, in her home on Park avenue, assisted by Mrs. Howard P. Meehan and Miss Maxine Taylor.

Those taking part included the following: Marjorie and Miriam Thomas, George Wilbur Perver, Phyllis Mary Ferver, Elaine Elizabeth Keefer, Margaret Ann Craig, Verna Taylor, Jean Paton, Carolyn Joan Cosel, Esther Schaller, Jean Dufford, Marjorie Wills Allen, Mrs. Meehan, Mary Louise Meehan, Maxine Taylor and Mrs. Scott.

Little Maxine Taylor accompanied by her mother Mrs. Rachel Taylor sang several songs in a pleasing manner and Elaine Elizabeth Keefer assisted with two humorous readings.

The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion in Autumn tones.

The Misses Myfanwy Lewis, Viola Dufford and Marion Jean Vogan acted as ushers. An informal reception concluded the evening.

THE GHASTLY TOLL

FAULTY driving of the American motorist last year incurred damage amounting to one fifth of the total value of all the automobiles produced in the United States during the year. This fact has just been made public in a joint statement from two leading accident insurance companies. The estimate, it is explained, is "an extremely conservative one," covering automotive production, and losses actually paid by the insurance companies during the year.

Claims settled for auto liability, collision and property damage totaled more than $163,764,000, approximately 21 per cent of the wholesale value of motor vehicles produced in the United States during the year. Moreover, it is pointed out that, while the production figures are complete, the losses from accidents are far more than are indicated, because of the great number of cars that are not protected by insurance.

Of the losses paid by insurance companies in 1932 by far the largest part went for liability cases, which amounted to more than $132,000,000. Collision insurance accounted for more than $1,774,000, and auto property damage for over $23,829,000.

While the financial losses can be thus tabulated, there is no way to tally up the frightful total in human suffering represented by these smashups. During the first 10 months of 1933 a total of 22,900 persons were killed in automobile accidents, on the basis of official reports from the 48 states and the District of Columbia. If the trend in the increase of deaths that has taken place since June continues the rest of the year, fatalities will approximate 29,000 for the 12 months, the insurance companies report.

This frightful total is despite the fact that there are fewer motor cars on the highway, due to the depression, and fewer miles being driven, according to gasoline sales tax records.

AMERICANS EXPLORE THE STRATOSPHERE

Negotiating the stratosphere is like the 1933 brand of football. You do not score in the opening period; perhaps, not even in the second. Professor Piccard's first attempt in Augsburg in 1930 was a fizzle; the balloon refused to rise. Likewise the initial Soviet venture was a fluke. In August Lieutenant Commander Settle sailed aloft from Chicago in connection with the Century of Progress Exposition, but had to descend before reaching more than an altitude of 5000 feet. All these experiments, to recur to gridiron parlance, were merely essays in trying out the defenses—no score. But in the subsequent attempts each scientist proved his enduring power and came through with a victory.

It is gratifying to learn that Settle and his co-pilot, Major Fordney, reached the earth in safety. Apparently they hung up a new record. At least, they surpassed Piccard's altitude. Whether they surpassed the Russian achievement is less certain; the latter lacks official confirmation, though the circumstances may prove unimportant. No geographical society "confirmed" Columbus's discovery of this continent at that time. The map makers gave the honor to Vesputi. His predecessor lacked a good press.

Probably to no single navigator can be given the exclusive honor of obtaining the unimpeachable data upon which later may be definitely postulated the future's accepted concepts of the stratosphere and the cosmic ray. Each adds a bit, partly supporting and partly modifying the theories of earlier pioneers. Our knowledge of the upper ether, as of astronomy, must be pieced out from many sources. Thus it is a social adventure, an adventure of international scope.

Commander Settle was happily equipped on the practical side. He knows ballooning as few Americans do. He has taken part in thrilling races which he says were more hazardous than this exploration of the stratosphere. On that score, no doubt, he had an advantage over Piccard, who has delved more deeply into the concomitant theories as they affect pure science apart from applied science. Also Settle knew the terrain where he landed, as the Belgian did not.

The stratosphere is Piccard's hobby. The cosmic ray is the pet of laboratory workers gifted with imaginative mentality, who must depend for actual proof on the daring and intelligence of another type of humanity—the hardy explorer who sails forth upon these uncharted seas.

Probably the average reader will be little concerned with anything but the human side of the exploit which has just ended in New Jersey. The power of the cosmic ray to create or destroy the universe means little to a man who is seeking a form of energy capable of lifting his mortgage. One could wish that Settle and Fordney had found in the empyrean a neutralization of gravity or a reduction of atmospheric resistance that would mean something for the future of heavier-than-air transportation. But the hope is not apparent. Meanwhile America has proved again that the field of the unknown offers a challenge to physical courage far more glamorous, with rewards of lasting renown, than the battlefield of carnage and wanton slaughter.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Every community has at least one family whose members have no skill at anything except winning law suits.

The final proof of friendship is to think him intelligent even if he makes two or three times as much money as you do.

There are no indications as yet that this administration will develop the second greatest secretary of the treasury since Hamilton.

Guns no longer are notched. The custom survives only as scratches on the furniture that tell how often the family has moved.

For ages there have been men who have worked for the public, according to historians; our time has merely eliminated the word "for."

If she feels abused and pouts habitually, he gets his own breakfast, washes the dishes and scrubs the floors. She selects his neckties, suits and other indispensable paraphernalia.

If regulations to control the sale of liquor are made too tight they may become as much a challenge to the adventurous minded as was prohibition.

The Home Loan Mortgage outfit has rented dozens of offices in Al Smith's Empire State building in New York City. Rents in the Empire State building are the highest in the world.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

WE DIDN'T FOOL UNCLE.
Uncle Harry, on a Sunday afternoon after dinner, told us—my brother and me—that he'd take us down to the Board of Trade and teach us how to play pool. He said it was a good game and he wanted us to play in a good atmosphere.

We knew where the Board of Trade was. It was in the Odd Fellows' building, under the big clock, a few doors from the Opera House. We'd been in it and watched the old fellows playing bottle pool and billiards there. So it was familiar to us and we weren't embarrassed as Uncle Harry selected cues for us and told us how to hold them and explained how straight pool was played and warned us not to miscue and rip the cloth. . . . We listened very solemnly and when my brother tried to catch my eye and wink at me I wouldn't look at him.

So we began and our Uncle Harry was very good and patient with us. He explained everything once and then twice and he praised us for the speed with which we absorbed his instructions and made a few casual remarks about youth and its sense of learning. . . . We didn't say much. We couldn't. We were too busy acting as if we'd never played this game of pool before. . . . But the strain was too great for me. Finally, despite myself, I couldn't miss any more easy shots. I found my cue ball in excellent position and proceeded to make ten shots in a row without a miss, with my Uncle Harry looking me up and down as if he'd just seen me for the first time, and me hardly daring to meet his eyes.

He knew from just the way I was handling that cue that I'd spent a tireless many hours in the pool-rooms down on lower Main street and in that Japanese poolroom across the river.

What did Uncle Harry do? . . . Not very much. . . . He merely smiled and said: "Well, boys, I'll leave you to yourselves. I've an idea you know more about this game than I do. If I thought it would do any good I'd advise you to stop spending your time in those pool-rooms. You might get into trouble. . . . But don't worry about me, I won't tell your mother."

And as far as I know he never did. Or if he did he didn't say anything to us about our skill at pool. . . . It was very decent of him. . . . It was a much higher standard of conduct than a kid usually expects from an adult. . . . But he never played with us again.

BATTLING NERVOUSNESS

The nervous person becomes still more nervous in the presence of those who frequently allude to the subject.

It is unkind to tell anyone that he would get along better if he would control his nervousness.

It is not the right system to employ with a nervous person.

Do not give a hint that you think they are nervous.

If anything express confidence that they have the ability to carry on successfully.

Try to minimize obstacles.

Don't enlarge on serious consequences of certain procedures.

Be explicit in your directions or instructions but calm in your suggestions when it comes time for immediate action.

Ground is always lost when a nervous person is censured for something which was poorly done due to a nervous tension.

The instructor and adviser of a nervous person must be patient and not show irritation.

The one whose nerves are on edge is anxious to do things right.

That very anxiety may be the cause of failure.

All You've Got To Do To Be A Scientist Is To Get A Strange Bean From A Foreign Land And Try To Make It Grow.

A SOAPY STORY
By Ben Aleye Goolash
(A true incident. Fictitious names.)

It was a cold Sunday morning. But Old Man Harkler didn't care about the snow or its coldness. He whistled a rollicking tune as he sponged his back. With lanky legs he prodded for the soap at the bottom of the bathtub. Why hurry? Plenty of time before church time. What's more, his wife, Manda, was "so-so" about her Sunday apparel. Her hat must be perched "so-so" and everything else must be "so-so."

But Harkler was wrong. His wife's high-pitched voice reached the old man's ears. He stopped whistling. His forefinger dug into his left ear to remove the soapuds.

"Whazzat?" he yelled back. "We're late Willie!" Manda screamed. "Hurry up!"

Harkler muttered under his breath and stood up in the tub. He looked out through the window. Sure enough. A throng of churchgoers were passing by. Ah, he must hurry.

As Harkler reached for the towel, his foot tramped solidly on the cake of soap. He squaked and frantically grasped for support. Too late. Harkler crashed through the window, headlong into the snowdrift two stories below.

The churchgoers were horrified. They rushed to help the old man whom they believed seriously injured. But Harkler wasn't injured. No indeed. He floundered in the snow and then dashed madly toward the front door of his home.

The horrified stares of the churchgoers turned to merriment as they beheld the unclad gentleman beating furiously on the door. He was shivering. His teeth chattered. He rang the doorbell vigorously.

After what seemed an age to Harkler, the door opened and Manda, all ready for church, confronted her husband. Manda, however, failed to recognize this strange creature. She screamed and tried to slam the door in the creature's face. Ah, but Harkler with superhuman strength tackled the door as a football player tackles an opponent. He sprawled into the room. Manda recognized him. The door slammed.

The churchgoers went on their way smiling. The Harklers failed to attend the services.

She was a good cook, and the mistress was anxious not to offend her, so the request was granted. This time, however, the cook was clad in her best and gayest Sunday refinery. The mistress met her as she was leaving the house. The white woman said: "You are not going to a funeral this Sunday, Mandy, are you?" "No, Mam, I'm goin' to be de bride of de corpse's husband."

Size Of Cotton Crop Made Test Of Reduction Policy

Unprecedented Yield Believed To Have Been Averted Under Government Policy Of Encouraging Those Producers Who Plowed Under

While estimates of the cotton crop indicate that it is slightly larger than last year, despite efforts made to curtail under encouragement of the federal government, the press voices the belief that without curtailment the crop would have been of unprecedented size, and the market for the staple would have been demoralized. Favorable weather conditions are linked with the high crop figures.

While stating that "test of the domestic allotment philosophy still lies ahead," the NEW YORK TIMES points out that "part of a growing cotton crop has been plowed under. The Times continues: 'The result has been to reduce the indicated crop for 1933 from 17,000,000 bales to 13,100,000. Mr. Beck, A. A. administrator, believes that this means the difference between cotton at 5 cents and at 10 cents a pound, and that $230,000,000 has been added to the value of the crop by the deliberate destruction of part of it. But it remains true that, even after the deliberate destruction, the present crop is about 100,000 bales larger than last year's. Accordingly, the curtailment of production to domestic needs is at present no nearer than it was last year, despite the fact that consumers of cotton goods will be taxed $10,000,000 in order to achieve it. What happened was that the farmer destroyed more of his crop; then cultivated more intensively what remained. This is shown by the fact that the estimated yield per acre this year is placed at the high figure of 208.7 pounds, as against 173.3 last year and an average of 167.4 for the previous decade."

Despite this showing, the PORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM advises as to next year that "the only way the peril of breaking prices may be escaped is to hold production down to reasonable market demands." The Star-Telegram feels that "cotton growers, looking at the figures in the final estimates, are entitled to a sizeable shudder for a catastrophe narrowly averted." That paper offers the explanation: "Had the crop proceeded to harvest on the average actually planted there would have been an overproduction of the time; coming on top of the crushing carry-over built up by several years of overproduction, the market would have been as soft as a Trinity bottom in April. In other words, if the federal government had not stepped in with its plowup plan and thereby reduced the effective acreage by more than one-fourth, the cotton farmers would have been lucky if they got as much as 5 cents for their 1933 crop. The yield figures, aside from proving the value to cotton farmers of the government's efforts in their behalf, demonstrate the absolute necessity of firm acreage control next year. The cotton situation, from the farmer's viewpoint, has not been bettered this year it has only been kept from becoming much worse."

While the government was spending about $10,000,000 to curtail production, the OAKLAND TRIBUNE, "nature, with favorable conditions, played a joke which is not appreciated by the experts." The Tribune adds that "the crop might be taken by consumers' demands, and it is not for the fact that there is a carry-over of millions of bales."

That paper concludes that "from all indications, there will be surplus next year, and necessity for another decision as to whether or not the government should try to limit production."

The Governor Says

What Is Going On In Harrisburg—
And Why

By GIFFORD PINCHOT
Governor of Pennsylvania

Things are happening so fast in Harrisburg that it is difficult to live up to the intent of these articles, which is to tell What Is Going On in Harrisburg—And Why.

A large majority of the members of the legislature came to Harrisburg determined to make a sincere effort to do the business at hand promptly and efficiently.

As a result, for the first time in my memory, a number of bills got through one branch of the legislature finally in the first week of the session. Three went through the house and one through the senate.

It is true that a good deal more could have been accomplished. But the activity of people who want to make money out of the liquor traffic, plus a natural desire to find out what the folks at home were thinking, caused some delay, which everyone hopes will not be serious.

I have every confidence of the ultimate outcome. The people of Pennsylvania are not in a frame of mind to stand for much monkey business. I know it—and I think the members of the legislature know it. I am convinced that a great majority of the members came to Harrisburg with a sincere desire to drop all personal and political prejudices and do unselfish service to the people of Pennsylvania.

I believe that every political leader and every public servant in the commonwealth is coming to the conclusion that there is a new spirit abroad in Pennsylvania—and the nation—and the world—today. With us in America it is not an overnight change. It has been growing and developing for years, except for a brief stagnation in the boom years of 1928 and 1929.

The idea that Pennsylvania just goes on and on in the same old rut is changing rapidly. And people are beginning to realize that the political and social and economic changes of the rest of the world affect us, and affect us deeply.

Pennsylvania is a part of this changing world, and what concerns others concerns us also.

The changes of which I speak are none the less real because they are not visible to the corporeal eye. They are changes in the hearts and minds of the people.

For example, there is no longer the national worship of the money kings that there was a few years ago. Concentrated wealth no longer overawes the rest of us.

The great masses of the people have been steadily developing their determination to govern themselves.

The great masses do not object to leadership—they welcome it. But they do object to the kind of leaders who pose as the friends of the people while actually serving Wall Street and the money lords.

The signs of the times are all about us.

In the National Recovery Act, for example, the rights of the workers have been recognized as never before. Labor has the right of collective bargaining through representatives of its own choice, which means that the workers have a voice about their hours, working conditions and wages.

Also, through the National Recovery Act child labor has been legislated out of existence for the time being at least. And child labor will be outlawed forever as soon as the various states approve a proposed amendment to the constitution.

The people are serving notice every day on us here at Harrisburg, and on every political party and faction, that they are going to have government for, of and by the people. It will no longer do to praise Lincoln in words while fighting everything that Lincoln stood for at every turn in the road.

In the mouths of the people is the taste of new things. They are coming to realize what government for the many actually means to the many. Old slogans have lost their power. The people want action, and they want it up their alley.

County Taxes Are Payable At Face Until December 1

Duplicates Will Then Be Placed In Hands Of Delinquent Collector

County taxes for 1933, which have not been paid by December 1, will be placed in the hands of delinquent tax collector, Edward Umbright, on the first of next month. Up until that time county taxes may be paid at their face at the office of County Treasurer, William O. Pitts, it is announced.

Heretofore it has been the custom to give five per cent discount in July, and charge face in August. On September 1, duplicates were given to the delinquent tax collector. This year, however, the time during which county taxes could be paid at their face was extended until December 1.

County Treasurer Pitts reports that county taxes have been rather slow in coming in this year. There are a lot of county taxes hanging over from last and previous years. Five per cent is added to the county tax after it is placed in the hands of the collector.

"I am so happy my skin is now clear"

● And it is all so simple.

It only seemed yesterday she felt discouraged and so conscious of a pimply skin... now to have it clear... why, of course she is very happy.

A friend had urged her to do as she had done... reasoned that the "trouble" probably came from within the body—the blood.

She followed her advice to take S.S.S. Tonic... what happened? First, she felt better. Pep replaced a tired-worn-out-let-down-feeling... she awoke every morning more cheerful and gradually her skin took on a clear, healthy tone. Then when she added powder and lipstick... what a difference! Do you wonder she is happy? No more open dates now.

You owe it to yourself and associates to try S.S.S. Tonic... a very old, acceptable, successful product. It will not interfere with any other medicine you may desire to take at the same time.

Jobless Register Fast As CWA Projects Are Started; Ask To Enlarge Job Office

Crowds of unemployed men of Lawrence county taxed the waiting room of the Federal-State Employment office in the Johnson building to capacity today as the office continued to register men hopeful of finding some job to do in the county's Civil Works Administration program.

Three days of registration—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday—had added 365 new names to the jobless register, Superintendent R. L. Meermans said. Today's total will likely top any of the other three days.

So heavy was the registration response that Mr. Meermans wired Harrisburg for authority to take over additional office space in the building to more efficiently handle the callers. He expected a reply today.

"The CWA activity represents about one-third of our office work here," Meermans explained, adding that the office's normal employment service and supervision of employment for normal state road projects must also be handled.

All workmen for the emergency CWA program are being provided by the office at Administrator L. B. Round's call.

Meermans announced the appointment today of Ernest Lindblad, Ellwood City, as manager of the CWA employment branch at Ellwood City. He said it is hoped to open the office in the Community Service League quarters there.

It was also revealed that a system of county registration centers will be set up quickly to permit residents in scattered sections to register near their homes instead of in New Castle or Ellwood City.

The office today urged men who have already registered here not to register over again, explaining that it is useless. It was also asked that residents refrain from calling in names of unemployed men with requests that preference be given them. The men called, it was reminded, are drawn from the files in the order registered, unless the job requirements and circumstances force the office to make special selections.

Nearly 10 girls and women have been placed to work in clerical positions as a result of the CWA undertaking, Mrs. Ethel Dunkerly, women's examiner at the office, said. She will register any woman or girl who calls, preferably during the afternoon hours.

Suspect Says He's From New Castle

F. L. Pastors Is Arrested At Elyria, O., On Charge Of Fraud In Wheeling (International News Service) WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 23.—Arrest of a man who identified himself as F. L. Pastors, 47, of New Castle, as a suspect in a fraudulent confidence game, alleged to have been perpetrated on a West Virginia hotel proprietor, was announced today by Wheeling police.

Taken into custody at Elyria, O., authorities said attempts would be made immediately to extradite the man to Wheeling for arraignment on several charges. The suspect, said to have posed as a telephone and telegraph company representative, also is said to be wanted for issuing a worthless check.

According to police, the fugitive they seek first appeared here about a week ago and allegedly worked the confidence game on a Wheeling restaurant and a hotel. Officials said the restaurant owner reported the man, after eating a large meal, arranged dinners for 25 other men, supposed to arrive the following day, and disappeared after asking his bill of $110 be included in the large order.

George Brown, proprietor of the Brown hotel here, told police he cashed a $20 check for the suspect, and that he disappeared after engaging 25 rooms in the hotel for "a big crew of employees". Brown alleged the check was worthless.

subject, the ATLANTA JOURNAL declares: "The government's policy of lending cotton farmers ten cents a pound on their 1933 crop has proved helpful in meeting urgent needs of the individual grower in strengthening the general market price, and in promoting the broad purposes of the national recovery act. It is now proposed to increase all these benefits by extending the same loan privilege to the so-called 'option' cotton held by producers who plowed up a portion of their 1933 crop. When the reduction campaign was under way last summer the farmers who co-operated therein were offered, as one form of compensation for the acreage they destroyed, an option to buy at six cents a pound a proportionate number of bales of the cotton held by the government. These farmers were to receive all profits arising from an advance in prices beyond six cents, and in no case were they to be liable for any financial loss. This 'option' cotton which they took from the government was placed upon much the same basis as the cotton which they themselves produced in 1933. Hence the logic and fairness of the proposal that the loans of ten cents a pound allowed on the latter be now extended to the former."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, when it often breaks out in blisters. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of substitutes. See at drug stores.

Roosevelt Maps Out Big Program

Five Administration Officials Will Visit With Roosevelt In Georgia

VACATION PERIOD
WILL BE BUSY ONE

(International News Service)
WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 23.— President Roosevelt rested today after mapping out a busy schedule for the rest of his vacation here.

At least five major administration officials were scheduled to call here, particularly Henry Morgenthau, Jr., who has been installed as acting secretary of the treasury.

Monetary matters were foremost on the president's mind. The message of Senator Key Pittman to George Schuster of Delhi, India, predicting that all the nations involved would sign the agreement between this country, Canada, Mexico, Peru, and Australia under which these nations would absorb 35,000,000 ounces of silver annually was held here a major consideration in the monetary policy. Pittman has been a leader in the demand for extensive use of silver, and it was felt here that his counsel might be acted upon.

Morgenthau was to arrive here Friday or Saturday with Mrs. Morgenthau, for a stay that may extend over Thanksgiving.

The other officials scheduled to come here included Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson, who will arrive late Thursday night or early Friday morning, and several others.

Men Are Guests At Church Affair

Dr. Norris White Is Speaker At New Wilmington Methodist Gathering

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 23.—
Men of the Brotherhood of the Methodist church in New Wilmington proved themselves adept in both preparing and serving a delicious roast beef dinner to approximately seventy-five members, who gathered in the church cafeteria on Tuesday evening.

Dr. H. O. Black, superintendent of the church school and a chorister of note, led in the singing of "America" and several popular Methodist songs.

ceremonies of the occasion then followed. The program was an assembly because of the inability of the Rev. Frank Morgan of McKeesport to address the function, he having been called to the performance of his duties. He then commented Dr. Norris White, pastor of the First Methodist church of New Castle, saying that Mr. Morgan's address would have been appreciated, but that Dr. White's would prove his versatility as a substitute.

Dr. White held the rapt attention of his audience throughout his speech, which, interspersed with bits of humor along with his central theme of Brotherhood, proved both interesting and inspirational. "The greatest fault with former men's organizations," said Rev. White, "has been their devotion to entertainment and eats, rather than the work of the church." He went on to discuss this attitude, warning the men of its weaknesses.

A call for new members was taken and the following men responded:
A. T. Cordray, June Sillman, Rev.
Jennings of Pulaski, Royce Moore, John Worrall, J. G. Anderson and
M. J. Anderson.

FAT PEOPLE CAN REDUCE SAFELY WITHOUT DRUGS

Physician Explains New Safe Scientific Method of Weight Control

According to a well-known medical authority on the dangers of excess weight, it is no longer necessary for fat people to face the problems of reducing with revulsion and fear.
Speaking over Station KTW, this prominent physician said that dieting, the bane of many a fat person's life and which often results in lowered vitality, can be dispensed with, as can strenuous exercises. Dangerous drugs, such as thyroid (unless taken under direction of a competent physician) should be avoided, as well as all other drastic reducing methods.

"Now it is absurd for anyone," he continued, "to take dangerous drugs or a daily dose of drastic salts that rushes food through the body half digested and leads to chronic constipation.
Vannay, a convenient sugar-coated tablet, is the safe, natural regulator of the digestive fermenta-(Lipases) which control the production of fat in all human bodies.
"You don't have to starve yourself or go through painful exercises. You simply take the tablets each day and continue to eat three meals. The fat disappears at just the places where you want to lose it."
Any of our clerks will be glad to give you an interesting booklet, "How to Reduce With Absolute Safety." This remarkable

Lee Tracy Is Dismissed By Film Company

Screen Star Has Long-Term Contract Cancelled By M.G.-M. For Mexican Episode

WILL RETURN TO NEW YORK STAGE

(International News Service) HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 23.—Lee Tracy, film star, today was to be formally notified of his discharge from the employ of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer motion picture studios for his recent actions in Mexico City.

Louis B. Mayer, studio executive, in a telegram to President Abelardo Rodriguez of Mexico, announced that Tracy's long-term contract had been cancelled "as a result of the actor's deplorable behavior."

"The officials of this company wish to take this opportunity of apologizing for the conduct of one of its employees and of assuring the Mexican people and the cadets against whom the indignity was visited," read Mr. Mayer's telegram, which further advised President Rodriguez that "not only has Tracy been removed from the picture 'Vive Villa' but he has been dismissed entirely from our employ and his contract cancelled."

Film Company Shocked. Mr. Mayer said that "the insult offered by Tracy to the Mexican cadets corps has embarrassed and shocked the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer organization fully as deeply as it has the Mexican people."

Tracy was scheduled to depart from El Paso, Tex., last night and arrive here tonight.

Tracy, sought by Mexican border guards, reached El Paso by airplane from Mexico City. His arrest was sought on charges of making offensive gestures and remarks when he stood on a balcony of a Mexico City hotel and watched the Mexican cadet corps march by.

Hollywood friends of Tracy expected the actor would return to the New York stage.

Many Banks Make Application For Insurance Corp.

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Application for membership in the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. at the close of business Nov. 21 numbered 6,135 state banks, chairman Walter J. Cummings announced today.

About 10,300 state banks, which are not members of the Federal Reserve system, are eligible for the insurance fund if they can qualify. Member banks automatically come into the insurance corporation Jan. 1.

Cummings said 3,605 of the applying banks have been examined. Minnesota led in the number of state banks applying for membership in the fund with 419, followed by 416 in Illinois, 357 in Missouri, 348 in Indiana, 299 in Ohio, 296 in New York, 290 in Wisconsin and 266 in Pennsylvania.

Mother Of Seven Children Walks Into Path Of Automobile, Driver Exonerated

(International News Service) ERIE, Pa., Nov. 23.—Mrs. Stanley Walczak, 56, mother of seven, was instantly killed last night when struck by an automobile while crossing a street, a coroner's report revealed today.

No charges were placed against the driver. Police said a heavy rain impaired vision and that the woman walked into the path of the machine.

Missing Hunter Is Found Dead

Bear Hunter In Woods Near Kane, Finds Body Of Missing Ludlow, Pa., Man

(International News Service) KANE, Pa., Nov. 23.—Harry Mattison, 37, of Ludlow, missing in the forests of McKean county since Nov. 13, was found dead this morning by Henry Lindermuth, a West Hickory, Pa., bear hunter.

Mattison was found lying on his back, his gun under one arm. Pending the arrival of Coroner W. D. Allen from Bradford, it could not be determined whether the missing man had died from heart failure or had been shot.

Hundreds of men scoured the woods where Mattison was last seen, but were unsuccessful.

Utility Bill Is Introduced

Bill Would Require Utility Concerns To Obtain Approval Before Raising Rates

TRUCK BILL IS ALSO INTRODUCED

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Nov. 23.—Utility legislation, advocated by Gov. Gifford Pinchot, was injected into the General Assembly again today in a bill introduced by Senator Benjamin H. Thompson, Westmoreland.

The bill would require utility concerns to obtain approval from the public service commission before increasing rates. It also would permit the commission to grant utilities a temporary increase in rates, if it sees fit to do so, for a period not to exceed four months.

Trucks and motor vehicles more than 33 feet long or 45 feet long with a trailer would not be permitted on Pennsylvania highways between noon Saturday and midnight Sunday under terms of a bill introduced by Senator Harry B. Scott, Center.

Scott also offered a bill permitting an appropriation from the motor license fund to the board of finance and revenue for sinking fund and interest charges on $10,000,000 bonds to be issued for purchase of toll bridges by the state.

Vice Raids In Erie Result In 102 Being Held

(International News Service) ERIE, Pa., Nov. 23.—Continuing his drive against vice in this city, Chief of Police William Detzel today announced the arrest of 28 more persons in raids last night. The arrests bring the total of the drive which began Saturday night to 102.

Auto Stealing Ring Is Broken Up By Arrests

Arrest Of Young Man At Needmore, Pa., Helps To Clear Up Many Thefts

(International News Service) ALTOONA, Pa., Nov. 23.—With the arrest of Clyde Melott, 23, of Needmore, police of Fulton and Bedford counties today announced they had cleared up the theft of more than a dozen automobiles in recent months.

Melott is held in $3,000 bail. Allen Melott, 23, a cousin, and Charles Swisher, 29, also are being held following a hearing before Squire Clark at Bedford yesterday.

Officers recovered six cars and found parts and licenses of ten others during their investigation of the thefts.

The thefts were cleared up when Swisher was arrested at Tannery following a party during which the home of Woolson Carbaugh burned to the ground. Swisher was rescued from the fire and confessed.

"Mechanical Lung" Fails To Save Life Of Bradford Man

(International News Service) BRADFORD, Pa., Nov. 23.—Failing to respond to respiratory administration in Buffalo General hospital where he was rushed in a "mercy dash", Clarence Boylan, 32, of Gifford, died there early today. His body will be returned to Bradford today.

Members of the party that rushed Boylan to the hospital in an ambulance for treatment of paralysis of the diaphragm alternated at respiration efforts.

Boylan died 17 hours after he had been placed in a "mechanical lung" at the Buffalo institution.

Lindberghs Hop For Madeiras In Seaplane Today

Lindberghs Head For Island 100 Miles East Of Horta, Azores

(International News Service) HORTA, Azores, Nov. 23.—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh hopped off for the Madeira Islands in their seaplane at 12:46 p. m. local time (9:45 a. m. E. S. T.) today. The Lindberghs headed for San Miguel Island, about 100 miles east of Horta, where they planned to make a survey of landing places for planes before proceeding southward toward the Madeiras.

McClure Case Going To Jury

Judge Delivers Solemn Charge To Jury Trying Senator McClure And Others

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—Federal Judge George A. Welsh today delivered a solemn charge to the jury of 12 men who this afternoon will begin deliberations on the fate of State Senator Jno. J. McClure, Delaware county, and 72 others accused with him in a huge liquor conspiracy.

A few minutes before, former common pleas court Judge James Gay Gordon, Sr., last of the defense attorneys to address the jury, had concluded.

The former jurist, personal counsel for Senator McClure, a man past 70 years of age, made an impassioned plea for acquittal.

Background is any part of the story or article that comes before the words: "Then came the depression."

BOY MAY TESTIFY AGAINST SHANK

Clyde Colley

Mark H. Shank

Upon the testimony of four-year-old Clyde Colley, above, may hinge the fate of Mark H. Shank, also above, Akron, O., attorney, at the latter's trial in Benton, Ark., on charges of murdering four members of the Colley family with poison. Young Clyde, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Colley, and brothers, Clement, 11, and Clarence, 7, died in the alleged poison plot, was the only member of the family to recover. The boy has told police that he saw Shank, who assertedly confessed, "put something into the grape juice" which the Colley family drank while on an outing in Arkansas with Shank. Shank later maintained the confession was obtained by force and that Colley tried to blackmail him.

TRUCK AFIRE ON HARLANSBURG ROAD

City firemen were called to the Harlansburg road by a still alarm Thursday afternoon to extinguish a fire in a truck owned by the J. J. Dean Grocery Company. The driver was afraid the blaze might spread to the contents of the truck and telephoned firemen, who extinguished the blaze with but small loss.

SCOUT REUNION PLANS COMPLETE

Girl Scouts To Meet Saturday Afternoon; To Present Award

Mrs. A. B. Street, chairman of the Court of Awards of the New Castle Girl Scout organization, will make the presentation of the Golden Eaglet to Donna Jean Beall, outstanding New Castle Girl Scout, at a memorable gathering in the basement of St. Mary's church Saturday afternoon.

Presentation of the award the first of its kind ever to go to a New Castle girl, will be the feature of the annual camp reunion.

All Girl Scouts of the city who attended either "permanent" camp at Kennedy's Mills or "day" camp at Cascade Park, last summer, will be in attendance at the reunion. Present also will be members of the Girl Scout Council and Girl Scout leaders' association.

Mrs. W. H. Hanger, chairman of the camp committee, which has planned the affair announces the following program will get underway promptly at 2:00 p. m. (Scouts of the city are asked to be there not later than 1:45 p. m.)

Award of the Golden Eaglet.
Two anecdotes from the life of Juliet Lowe, founder of Girl Scouting—by the Never-Never-Land unit, in charge of Mrs. E. W. Guy. This will be a pantomime.

Dramatization of different steps in Girl Scouting—by the Highland Pioneer and Gypsy unit, in charge of Miss Leona Stanley.

Camp songs—by the Robin Hood unit, in charge of Mrs. George Westlake.

A day in "day camp"—dramatized by the girls of "day" camp in charge of Mrs. Sid Smith.

Closing, the scouts will form a circle and sing "Taps."

Troop No. 6 is arranging for the serving of refreshments.

A large crowd of girls and women are expected to be present. It will be an unusually important day for the entire organization which reaches in every part of the city.

Miss Helen Wilson, a member of the camp committee, will announce and have general charge of the afternoon's order of procedure.

Leaning on the bar might be a happy compromise between the sitting and standing schools of legislative thought.—The Detroit News.

GIRL SCOUTS

VISIT ALMIRA HOME

Girl Scout Troop No. 3, whose captain is Mrs. Sid Smith, held a special meeting Tuesday evening, November 21, for the purpose of amusing the ladies of The Almira Home. The program was as follows:

Play, "Miss Finch's Doll Shop"—Miss Finch, Mary E. Fonderick; dolls, members of the troop; Mrs. Van Swager, Mina Hoover; her daughter, Betty Lou Montgomery; Mrs. Smith, Betty Woods; her daughter, Catherine Peters.

After the play the troop sang several songs for the ladies. They then displayed the dolls. Florence Snider had one which had attained the age of 70 years. It was formerly her grandmother's.

The girls then presented a folk dance, namely, "Sandy Gate." To end the program the girls formed in a friendship circle in which all of the ladies of the home were included, and sang "Home on the Range" and "Taps." Mary E. Fonderick repeated the benediction. Before the troop left, a quartet, composed of Florence Snider, Mary E. Fonderick, Helen Houck and Betty Woods, rendered a pretty selection, "Good Night."

The ladies of the home sent the troop off with a hail of applause, making the girls feel that the time had been well spent.

The regular meeting of the troop will be Thursday evening. Popping popcorn will be on the program. The girls have been asked to bring their own butter.

Scribe, BETTE WOODS.

When Woman Are Involved
Mrs. McKibben Accompanies Police

If there is a "Jack-of-all trades"—speaking of course, of Mrs. Minnie McKibben, city police department matron who has served in that capacity for about 10 years.

Every time a patrol is sent out and it is believed there will be women or girls involved, whether the arrest is to be made on a liquor charge, cutting scrape, revolver attack or disorderly conduct, Mrs. McKibben accompanies the officer.

She takes charge of the woman angle of the case and as a rule works from noon until 10 p. m. It was Mrs. McKibben who accompanied state and county officers to Arizona when Irene Schroeder and Glenn Dague were returned to this city to face trial for the killing of the late Brady Paul. She had charge of the woman prisoner.

Mrs. Jas. A. Shannon was a business caller in New Wilmington, Monday.

Mrs. J. F. Myers and sons Kenneth and Billie were Youngstown visitors on Saturday.

Miss Mildred Hall, teacher of Brown School, spent the week end at her home in Oil City.

Rev. and Mrs. E. Junkin left on Monday for Akron after spending the week end as the guest of Dr. and Mrs. William Parsons.

Chas. Crawford of Pittsburgh, spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. J. B. Crawford, and sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McCallister.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Meek of New Castle, spent the week end with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Meek. Mrs. Meek who has been confined to her home with illness for several months is slowly improving.

The Womens Benefit Association held their regular meeting. The president, Mrs. Chas. Clark, presided over the business session after which a social evening was enjoyed and a fine lunch was served by Mrs. C. C. Boyd, Mrs. W. J. McCallister and Mrs. Chas. Garrett.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church held an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. Laura Wilson on Friday at noon a splendid tureen dinner was enjoyed followed by a business meeting with

COLDS

Go Thru 3 Stages
—and They're Far Easier
Relieved in the First than in the Second or Third!

A cold ordinarily goes through 3 stages: the Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. The first stage is the time to "nail" a cold.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is the treatment for colds. It is expressly a cold remedy and not a preparation good for half a dozen other things as well. It is direct and internal which is what a cold, an internal infection, requires. It is also complete—it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippy feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. Anything less than that is inviting trouble. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any druggist, 30c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and refuse a substitute.

Milk Control Plan May Win In Senate

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 23.—Creation of a milk control board for Pennsylvania with price-fixing and licensing powers to regulate the dairy industry during "the present period of emergency," is provided in a bill on second reading in the senate today.

The act would be effective immediately upon the signature of Gov. Gifford Pinchot and would remain in force until April 30, 1935. Its provisions were set up to "regulate and control the milk industry for the protection, health, welfare and comfort of the citizens of the Commonwealth."

Senator Clarence J. Buckman, Bucks, introduced the bill which was reported out of committee and passed on first reading.

The control boards would consist of the secretaries of agriculture and health and a director appointed by the governor with senatorial approval, the latter to receive a salary of $7,500 annually.

All handlers of milk and allied products would operate under licenses granted by the board except those doing a business of less than 3,000 pounds annually. Fees for licenses range from $3 for those doing a daily business of from 20 to 100 pounds up to $2,500 for businesses of over 1,000,000 daily.

The board would have the power to fix maximum and minimum wholesale and retail prices.

LOCAL MEN KILL BEAR

Anthony Basile of South Mill street, received a card from Emporium, Pa., telling him that Jack McConnell, of Pennsylvania avenue and Anthony Cassella of Taylor St. who are hunting in Forest County, bagged a bear on Monday.

The local men are spending a week hunting in Forest county. Several years ago, Mr. McConnell was among the few hunters in the state to return home with a prize bear. The South Siders will probably return home with the prize animal on Saturday or Sunday.

Rabbit Fever Need Not Cause Alarm In State

Pennsylvania Rabbits Have Not Been Infected By Dread Disease

Pennsylvania sportsmen need not be unduly alarmed over the possibility of contracting tularemia, or rabbit fever, from rabbits killed during the hunting season, the board of game commissioners announces.

It is a serious disease, and there is no reason why it should not be found in a Pennsylvania rabbit, yet only one case has ever been found as such, and that was in a rabbit killed near the Maryland state line.

Pennsylvania rabbits are imported from districts known to be free of tularemia, although they could be bought cheaper in districts where the disease is known to prevail.

Most cases which have been reported in the state have come from rabbits killed in the west and shipped to our markets.

Mention Death Of Witnesses Called For Gordon Trial

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The ghosts of men who "died suddenly" haunted the income tax trial of Waxe Gordon, millionaire ex-pick-pocket, today. Witnesses after witness made reference to one or another of the five men who were killed after the government had questioned them in the long preparation of the case.

Thomas E. Dewey, 31, the youngest United States attorney in the country, merely mentioned that these men had "died suddenly." Murders have no part in this trial which is purely one of finance and much of it high finance. The government's demand against Waxe, beer baron, for tax payments for two years, has now mounted to more than one million dollars.

NEW CASTLE LADY FREE OF MISERY

"Twenty Extracts Is Wonderful" She Says; "Don't See How It Can Be Sold At 75c"

NEW CASTLE people say they never saw anything like the Twenty Extracts, which is the great new mixture of Nature's Medicines now being introduced to large crowds daily here in this city at Eckerd's Drug Store, 118 E. Washington St. In fact, THOUSANDS OF BOTTLES of this "wonder compound" are being sold in New Castle and general vicinity and widely-known people, living in all parts of this section, are YUBAICLY endorsing it, urging the suffering to get it and take it.

For instance, just a few days ago, Mrs. Davis, 40 years of age, a resident of New Castle for 30 years, who lives at R. F. D. 3, this city, voluntarily made the following statement, in which she calls Twenty Extracts a "GODSEND" to HUMANITY. This statement reads as follows:

"It is a real pleasure to give a public statement about Twenty Extracts," said Mrs. Davis, "for it certainly is a 'wonder of a medicine' and a Godsend to the suffering, and I think that EVERYBODY should hear of it."

"I had gotten to be a great victim of stomach trouble. I had attacks of indigestion after practically every meal I ate. Large quantities of gas would build me up and I would feel miserable all over. My liver was in a disordered condition and this brought on sick headaches that would come over me nearly every day. I was subject to bilious spells and my complexion was unhealthy looking, due to this condition of my liver."

"I tried all kinds of medicines, first one thing and then another, until I was discouraged. I heard that Twenty Extracts was helping so many people, and I got the large size, and right here I want to stop long enough to say that I don't see how such a wonderful medicine can be sold for only 75 cents. In fact, it was worth more to me than hundreds of dollars. I spent on expensive treatments. When I started taking Twenty Extracts I could feel a change almost at once. It had a wonderful action on my stomach and stopped the indigestion and gas pains. It acted on my liver and relieved the sick headaches. It cleared up my complexion. Twenty Extracts is wonderful and I gladly endorse such a medicine to others."

Twenty Extracts is now being introduced to the public daily at Eckerd's Cut Rate Drug Store, 118 East Washington St., New Castle, where the large size is being sold THIS WEEK ONLY at the Special Introductory Price of 75c with coupon below:

Packing Houses Back To Normal At Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 23.—All but two packing houses in Pittsburgh reported operating with normal forces today as the meat workers' strike which had blocked deliveries for ten days appeared to have been definitely broken.

Pickets still patrolled two north side plants but firemen and engineers in these shops who walked out yesterday returned to work this morning.

Police escorts accompanied delivery trucks from one plant while

No Sisters Asking Help For Hospital

During the past few days numerous persons have called officials of the New Castle hospital inquiring as to whether or not the organization has several sisters canvassing the homes of the city begging for help.

RUSSIA TO MAKE CASH PAYMENT TO U. S.

Agreement Is Partially Made

Tentative Decision Is Reported; Amount Of Payment Is Unknown

CONGRESS TO HAVE FINAL SAY ON MOVE

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Soviet Russia has tentatively agreed to make a cash payment to the United States in connection with both the American debt and damage claims. This was learned today as Maxim Litvinoff, the Soviet foreign commissar, prepared to depart for Moscow.

The amount of money which the Soviets have agreed to pay and the method in which it will be paid was withheld pending a final understanding through diplomatic channels.

The payment probably will be made in dollars and American quarters feel it will be satisfactory to this government.

Seek Congress Approval

The amount which will be offered in connection with the $187,000,000 Kerensky debt will be submitted to congress for its approval. The remainder will be an understanding between President and the Soviet government.

Litvinoff remained over nearly a week in the hope that the final settlement could be reached before his departure. Both sides had hoped this final understanding on debts could be made the climax to the resumption of normal relations which resulted from Litvinoff's visit.

It was found impossible to reach a final settlement on both debts and damage claims in such a short time, because of the complicated nature of the details and the inability of American government officials, especially acting Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, to devote sufficient time to the matter.

Second Annual Supper Friday

All-Association Supper Of Y. W. C. A. To Be Attended By 450 Women

Four hundred fifty women and girls of the Y. W. C. A. have indicated their intention of attending the second annual All-Association supper on Friday evening. This will fill the third floor of the Y. W. C. A. building to capacity and no more reservations can be made.

Those attending are members of the Young Women's Christian Association, members of the clubs and classes of the association, directors, trustees, committee members, and a few special guests.

The supper is in celebration of World Fellowship week, observed by the Young Women's Christian Association in fifty countries of the world. Mrs. Roy Long is general chairman. Her committee has informed the persons making reservations to bring turkeys, table service, plates and cups.

Guests will arrive at 6 o'clock. The grand march will take place at 6:15 and at the same time a group of judges will select the most cleverly decorated table. Each club or group will be seated at separate tables.

Restrictions On Treasury News To Be Made Lighter

Henry Morgenthau Jr., Changes Mind About Rigid Censorship, Due To Protests

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Expressing the desire to cooperate with the press, Acting Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., today removed some of the censorship restrictions at the treasury.

Assistant secretaries, division chiefs and others designated in the various bureaus of the treasury will be permitted to see newspaper correspondents and to impart to them actual information within their discretion.

The ban continues, however, as to discussions of treasury policy and to the expression of opinions on controversial subjects including the gold program and other matters of that character.

The original instructions of the treasury, termed "order No. 1," prohibited any official or employee from giving information through interviews, statements or public speeches except when approved by Herbert E. Gaston, the press relations representative.

U. M. W. Wins In Mine Elections

Balloting Taking Place Today In Uniontown District—No Disorders

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 23.—With the United Mine Workers of America gaining sweeping victories in the first day's election balloting for representatives of captive mine employees shifted today to the Uniontown district, hotbed of Western Pennsylvania's coal mining difficulties.

Dynamite blasts and fiery crosses of the hillsides during the night heralded the approach of the election, but no casualties were reported.

The United Mine Workers triumphed overwhelmingly at all 14 captive mines where ballots were cast yesterday. Three of these operations are run by United States Steel Company subsidiaries. The election was almost wholly free of disorder.

Kiwanians Will Hold Grange Party Tonight

More Witnesses For Roger Touhy And Gang Heard

Additional Alibi Witnesses Heard In Court At St. Paul

(International News Service) ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 23.—Additional alibi witnesses were scheduled to testify today for the defense in the trial of Roger Touhy, Chicago beer gangster, and three associates accused of abducting William Hamm, Jr., wealthy brewer.

Defense Counsel William Scott Stewart also planned to call witnesses whom he said would further impeach the testimony of Walter C. Bowick, missing government witness. Bowick took the stand before Federal Judge M. M. Joyce to identify Touhy's three co-defendants as the actual abductors of Hamm.

On trial with Touhy for the $100,000 abduction are Willie Sharkey, Eddie McFadden and Gus Schaefer. Two witnesses, Attorney Vernon T. Connor and Edward J. Mooney, who testified in Touhy's behalf, were at liberty today on their own recognizance after police arrested them at the request of federal authorities.

Charges of registering at a hotel under assumed names were expected to be dropped today by the city prosecutor.

Hershey Auxiliary Has Praise Service

Impressive Candle-Light Service Marks Annual Thanksgiving Program In Church

A most devout atmosphere prevailed Wednesday evening in the First Presbyterian church, when a most impressive candle light service of Thanksgiving was conducted by the members of the Hershey Auxiliary of which Mrs. L. B. Round is president.

With all light extinguished except the glowing candles, the audience reverently bowed their heads as Dr. Walter E. McClure, pastor of the church, asked the invocation, after which an appropriate hymn was sung.

Mrs. H. E. Golder read the scripture lesson and the prayer was offered by Mrs. A. B. Frankhouse. L. B. Round gave "A Thanksgiving Thought", a reading "The Mansion" was beautifully given by Mrs. Robert Magill, with Thomas Webster playing the organ accompaniment. Mrs. James Rugh, in her rich contralto, sang "How I Gave My Heart to Christ" and the program closed with Dr. McClure's pronouncing the benediction.

Three Thousand Given Garments In Single Month

Report For Month Of October Shows Over Six Thousand Garments Are Given Out

RED CROSS NURSE ALSO KEPT BUSY

Over three thousand persons were aided by the Lawrence County Chapter, Red Cross, during the month of October, the report of Mrs. David Kay, chairman of the Garment Committee of the chapter shows. This number received 6,110 garments from the chapter.

The complete report shows 6,110 garments distributed to 3,309 persons. The greatest number given out in one day was 948. There were 1,381 calls made at the Chapter office.

During the month, there were nine sewing units operating, and 13 cutting units, with 489 persons occupied. They worked a total of 3,506 hours, completing 537 garments. The cutting units returned 2,715 garments ready for sewing.

In addition to garments, 48 blankets, 40 comforts, and 21 sheets were given out, of which number 20 comforts, 25 blankets and five sheets went to places outside the city.

Yard goods were distributed in Bessemer, New Bedford, Castlewood, Ellwood City, Erskine Mine, Sheep Hill, and South New Castle Boro.

At the start of the fall, the chapter had 49,000 yards of cotton materials on hand, and on the first of October, this amount had been reduced to 35,800 yards. During October 11,782 yards was issued, leaving a balance of 24,117 yards.

During October, Miss Kathryn A. Hite, Chapter Nurse, made 177 visits, of which 25 were antepartum, 46 post partum, and 46 newborn.

Miss Hite made 28 investigations and ten social service calls, as a part of the 177 visits listed above.

FRIENDS EXTEND BEST WISHES ON BIRTHDAY

Charles E. Dungan, local business man, who on Wednesday reached his 70th birthday, had no time for much else during the day but receiving the hearty congratulations from his host of friends.

In the morning Mr. Dungan was summoned to the New Castle office of his company to answer charges of a "shortage in his accounts". The entire office staff was assembled upon his arrival and revealed the sham by extending birthday felicitations to their popular co-worker and presenting him with a handsome gift.

Returning here Mr. Dungan found his place of business decorated in gala bunting and he was presented with two beautiful bouquets from his sons, Charles and Harvey.

FRIENDS GATHER FOR WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. William Harmon of East Wabash avenue were honored on their eighth wedding anniversary Tuesday evening by a gathering of friends at the T. F. Roberts home.

The event was arranged surprise fashion. Dancing to the tunes of radio music was enjoyed. Later a tasty lunch was served.

CANNED GOODS SENT

Hundreds of cans of fruits and vegetables, packages of cereals, etc., were packed into a truck yesterday at the Mahoning M. E. church and sent on their way to cheer the appetites of children living in the Ruth M. Smith home at Sheffield, Pa.

The canned goods were donated a short time ago by the Epworth League of the sub-district at a large festival conducted at the local church. The Mahoning Epworth League won the blue ribbon for contributing the largest amount of goods.

The Ruth M. Smith children's home is supported by the Erie conference.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

In honor of Louise Macarella's 9th birthday, a party was given at her home on Madison avenue, November 19. The time was spent in playing many games. A delicious lunch was served to the following guests: Howard Snyder, Lillian Wink, Edith Goodhart, Dolly and Angelo Zarilla, Nickie Quarto, Gloria Payne, Clara Zarilla, Nellie Parks, Pearl, Rachel and Caroline Marvell, Mildred Rainey, Eleanor Melchoerre, and the honored one. Prizes for games were awarded to Lillian Wink, Howard Snyder and Edith Goodhart.

The guest of honor received many beautiful and useful gifts.

ALUMNI ORCHESTRA

The "alumni orchestra," composed of students who received their first musical training at Mahoning school and have since left for senior high school, played several numbers at the school entertainment last night and pleased the large audience.

In the orchestra were: Domenick Pecano, Louis Mastrodotti, Emily Turner, Anthony Casbero, George Horcher, Glenn McClurg, trombone; Roger Pecano and Thomas Schneidly, clarinets; Nick Casbero and Jack Waddell, drums; and Helen Nocera, piano.

STORY HOUR TOMORROW

Thanksgiving stories are to be told at the Mahoningtown library Friday afternoon—and indications are that the library room will be full of boys and girls from 3:30 to 4:30 or 5:00.

Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian, and Mrs. Gladys Johnston, branch librarian, will be in charge.

Children of pre-school age may be brought by their mothers for a special session at 3:30. This period will be ended before the older children arrive from school at 4:00 p. m.

CIRCULATION GAIN

Report from Miss Alice Sterling, librarian, shows a gain in circulation of books at the Mahoningtown branch library during last month as compared to October, 1932.

The local library is in operation today and will be on next Monday but will be closed on Thursday, November 30, Thanksgiving Day.

RETURNS AFTER VISIT

Mrs. Lucy Gorre, of New York City, has returned home after a week with Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Allen, of North Liberty street, Thomas Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen, has returned to his studies at the New Castle senior high school, after six weeks of absence due to illness.

Grove City Truck Operator Seeks To Get State Permit

T. W. McKnight Of Grove City
Appears Before Public Service Commissioner

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 23.—T. W. McKnight, transfer operator of Grove City, Pa., appeared before Public Service Commissioner Samuel Walker here Wednesday in an initial hearing on his application for permission to haul household goods and construction supplies with the approval of the commission.

His application, was protested by counsel for the Baltimore and Ohio, Pennsylvania and Erie Railroads.

Chief among his jobs as a carrier of road, building and construction supplies, McKnight testified, have been frequent trips hauling brick from the plants of the New Castle Clay Products Company and the Pearson Brick Company, at New Castle, to points in the vicinity of Grove City.

He agreed, in his testimony, to reduce the radius of operation asked in his petition from 25 to 15 miles between points of origin and destination.

He sought to operate in Crawford, Lawrence, Mercer, Butler and Venango counties.

Can't Get Men For Street Work

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Nov. 23.—Wanted: Unemployed men, that unemployment program may function. The town council might run that classified advertisement in view of what civil works administration program has done to the municipal relief list, which virtually was eliminated when the state highway department put 56 men to work on Route 35 near here. In consequence the town is left without sufficient men to carry on a street-repair program.

Note to farmers: Watch your hens they long ago learned how to make the price of eggs go up.

Only Three Books To One Card Now At Local Library

Trustees Lower Number Of Limit Of Books To Card
From Six To Three

The board of trustees of the New Castle free public library decided, at a meeting conducted in the library building Tuesday night, to lower the limit of books allowed to be borrowed at one time on one card from six to three. This will come into effect next Monday, November 27.

The board of trustees hopes that the new rule will cause no inconvenience to anyone but believes, since there is a shortage of library books, that it will act as an added convenience to the greatest number of borrowers. The decision was made in order that the books of the library collection may be distributed to a larger number of borrowers instead of remaining in the hands of a lesser number. It is hoped that by lowering the number of books allowed to go out on each card, the shortage of books and the shortage of funds with which to buy new books may be bridged.

The rule will apply also to teachers who have been borrowing for use in their class rooms.

The board also agreed that no

Loughran Wins In Great Bout

Referee Stops Bout In Sixth Round, But Is Overruled; Loughran Stages Comeback

IMPELLITTIERE PROVES TOO SLOW

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service
Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The cold light of morning looks strange and unreal today, after a night at the Bronx Coliseum so completely bizarre as to suggest a chapter from Poe. No single, straight-away story here; it is as many as ten stories in one. Each an episode in itself, disclosing a series of swiftly moving scenes of drama and blood; of Tommy Loughran, the man who refused to lose. And Ray Impellittiere, who would not win.

Ordinarily, it would be simpler to say that Loughran won the unanimous decision over the giant Impellittiere, the noble experiment, the five-year creation, at the end of ten rounds. That, however, would be less than the truth. Loughran did win by a decision in the tenth. But first he lost by a technical knockout in the sixth. It all sounds very strange but so.

Loughran Makes Appeal

Nothing like it has ever happened in a New York ring. Probably not again will it happen here or anywhere. The fight seemingly was over. The referee, Pete Hartley, had awarded it to Impellittiere on a knockout. The giant had gone back to his corner, to sit down and smile knowingly upon those about him. But Loughran would not have it so. His mouth a ghastly ruin from which the blood cascaded down upon his chest, he refused to abide by the ruling but instead circled Hartley protesting volubly. Failing here, he turned to the crowd and threw his arms wide in a gesture of mute appeal. He danced, he capered, he wanted to show that he was ready and willing and able to go on. Suddenly, he caught the eye of General John Phelan, boxing commission chairman, and forsook all previous tactics to make his appeal personal and direct.

It was enough. First, the general nodded violently. Next, he shouted at Hartley, who looked perplexed. Then he waved his arms in a gesture meant to illustrate the coming together of two prizefighters, upon which Hartley looked first distressed and then relieved. With a nod, he waved his hands, too, and finally the round went on, with the crowd of more than 6,000 in an uproar. They were still screaming as the bell sounded in a din so violent that even the time keeper didn't hear it. This ended the round. It might as well have ended the fight. From that moment, Loughran, never so gallant as when threatened with this overwhelming ignominy, was the complete master. He danced in and out with lightning jabs to take the seventh. He stabbed this amazingly agile giant with lefts and rights to take the eighth and, in the ninth, he caught his man off balance with a straight left that drove him back on his heels. The tenth was even and uneventful but that did not matter.

Greensburg May Do "Run Out" On Playoff Contest

Report Going Rounds That Greensburg If Victor May Refuse To Play New Castle

A report is gaining ground in the Pittsburgh district that the powerful Greensburg High school football team will refuse to play New Castle if the Brown shirted players defeat Jeannette High on Thanksgiving Day.

A meeting of the remaining contenders in Class AA and Class B has been called for the Fort Pitt hotel in Pittsburgh next Monday night. The playoff game matter may be thrashed out at this time.

The New Castle High officials, according to Ralph H. Gardner, faculty manager, are much perplexed at the attitude taken by Greensburg High. It is possible that the Greensburg team fears the "Red Hurricane".

South Side Grid Fans Are Excited

Williams And Cascade Gridders Prepare For Annual Battle

Grid fans of the South Side are excited. On Sunday afternoon, at Dean Park the Williams eleven will battle the Cascade gridders at 2:30 o'clock. Rivalry is keen between the two teams.

The Williams team is composed of gridders living around East Long avenue, Reynolds street, and around Hamilton street while the Cascade members hail from around East Home street. The Cascades are staging daily practices this week in preparation for the tilt. Next Saturday afternoon the Williams will stage their final workout at 2:30 o'clock at Clifton Flats.

The coaches for the Cascade are Fred Marcella, Tip Richards and Fred Fabiani. The following players compose the Williams roster: B. Parker, P. Babs, G. Mike, J. Mike, E. Gibson, N. Nocera, J. Abraham, H. Harris, B. Brown, W. Small, J. Mehalic, P. Adams, J. Lewis, B. Shook, W. Ciccone, J. Myron, B. Solomon, R. Gray and Mike Pazzone.

PITZERS BREAK RECORDS

The Pitzer tenpin bowling team last night broke two Beaver-Lawrence tenpin bowling records as they defeated the Andrews team in a league match at the Liberty alleys in the seventh ward. The first record smashed was the high game total of 1099, which has stood for five years and the second record was the three-game total of 3139 which has also stood as high for five years. McElwain shot 673, the high three-game total for individuals this year. All records on the Liberty alleys were smashed last night by the Pitzer team. McElwain also had high score last night for a single game with 245.

GRID'S BIGGEST LINE ALL SET TO POUNCE ON YOU

Four of St. Mary's ponderous line of 200-pound giants, who carry three-quarters of a ton into battle, line up ready to stop anything—including a tornado. The mighty quartet are Bernard Schaefer, guard, 204 pounds; Herman Meister, tackle, 211 pounds; Ed Gilbert, guard, 238 pounds; Phil Baader, tackle, 200 pounds. St. Mary's mastodon line combined with a big backfield gives the school the heaviest football team of the current grid season.

Bessemer County Champs Close Successful Season

Marshall Proves One Of Best 'Backs' Bessemer Has Had

GOOD NUCLEUS FOR NEXT YEAR

(Special To The News)

BESSEMER, Nov. 23.—Bessemer high school's football team of 1933 completed one of the most successful seasons in the history of the school. After losing to Sharpville, who contested class A honors in Mercer county, in the opening game, the Bessemer team came back with seven consecutive victories and the Lawrence County championship.

Without a doubt this year's team was the best Bessemer has had during the past six years. Although other representative teams may have had more outstanding players none played as consistent football through the entire season as this season's team, according to coach J. H. Frederick.

The low spot of the season was the Shenango game. Although the team functioned fairly well it lacked the zest and spirit that characterized other contests. The high spot of the season was the Evans City game which Bessemer won 33-13, and the fourth period of the Union game when the locals tallied four touchdowns to win 26-6.

The principal reason for the success of the team was the competition in practice. Donofrio, Pezzullo, Hulsan, Donofrio, Pezzullo, Slavish, Hostnik and Slavish were constantly battling for positions on the line, while H. Marshall, Shoup, Clark, and Navarra had to "step on it" to keep their positions from Measure, J. Marshall, Poushey, and Glass. Every night was a game night.

Marshall Real Star

The play of Henry Marshall through the season was outstanding. He is one of the best backs Bessemer has ever had, but what made him particularly valuable as a quarterback was his unselfishness to the team. With only two exceptions his twelve touchdowns, his record for the season, were made from well past the ten yard line, the result of passes or long runs. Carrying the major burden of the offense in mid-field when near the goal line he gave Clark, Shoup, and Navarra completed the regular backfield. While Clark is mostly recognized for his excellent passing, his 125 pounds backed up in the line and invariably stopped line thrusts by opponents. When thinking of the success of the team the play of Shoup can not be overlooked. For the first time in years Bessemer had a wing back that could box a tackle and open an avenue for a powerful offensive play, and Shoup was that man.

The Bessemer team presented a strong offensive and defensive line. Captain Bill DeArment teamed with Seltzer or Capezuto could open a hole most any time for a powerful plunge. On defense the opponents found DeArment's 200 pounds rather difficult to move. Hostnik is one of the two best tackles Bessemer has had in six years, and he was the hardest tackler on the squad. Slavish had Sankovich with few exceptions stopped any attempt by the offense to circle the ends. Donofrio and Pezzullo were playing the guard positions most consistently at the end of the season.

Loss By Graduation

Graduation will take a heavy toll. DeArment, H. Marshall, Capezuto, Donofrio, Pezzullo, Slavish, Sankovich, Clark, and Seltzer will be lost. There is, however, an excellent nucleus for a team next season. Shoup, Clark, and Navarra are left in the backfield, and Glass gives promise of being an excellent ball carrier. Hostnik will be back, and with Panella and Willie Shuluga half of the line seems to be taken care of. Other players that have shown promise for next season are J. Marshall, Measure, Poushey, Bonnacchi, Galaxia, Maley, and Murphy.

Thirty six men comprised the squad at the end of the season. The work of Assistant coaches Thomas, and Ross can not be over estimated. The following will receive awards: Henry Marshall, Shoup, Navarra, Clark, Donofrio, Pezzullo, Slavish, Seltzer, Hulena, Panella, Wolfe, Glass, DeArment, W. Shuluga, and Thomas.

Union To Play At Sandy Lake

Union High School football team will go to Sandy Lake, Pa., on Friday afternoon for the final game of the 1933 campaign. Coach Dave Boyd has had the Union team at work all week, and the boys are in good shape.

It will be the final game of their scholastic careers for Captain Wayne White, John Jones Kirker, Rowbottom, Todd, Morrison, Weimer and Hughes.

The game was originally scheduled for last week but had to be postponed for a week on account of heavy snows. The game will start at 3:30 p. m.

Picks Michigan As Best Eleven

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Much as the football season has provided a maze of upsets and reverses for teams that were expected to win consistently, the matter of picking the country's leading eleven is easy for William F. Board, originator of the Azzi Rating system.

Michigan, Board says, is easily the country's leading team, with a total of 151 points.

Others followed: Pittsburgh 133, Princeton 136, Louisiana State 133, Army 132, So. California 132, Nebraska 131, Ohio State 130, Oregon 127, Duquesne 127 and Georgia, Minnesota, Duke and Purdue 125 each.

COASTING VICTIMS LEAVE HOSPITAL

Walter Grannis of Court street and Miss Jeannette Vogan of Park avenue, who were injured in coasting accidents during the recent cold snap, have been able to return to their homes from the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Grannis was hurt when his sled struck an auto on Court street, while Miss Vogan was injured while coasting on Emerson avenue, sustaining a broken leg.

Helen Wills Must Quit Tennis For One Years Time

Former National Champion Will Not Return To Tennis Courts Until 1935

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—Helen Wills Moody, internationally known tennis star, who last summer lost her national crown to Helen Jacobs when she defaulted during their championship match, won't even attempt to play tennis until at least 1935, she said today.

Mrs. Moody, recuperating from back injuries which forced her to give up her battle at Forest Hills with Miss Jacobs, can not play tennis until the condition of her back is again normal.

But the idea of remaining off the courts does not please the young matron who at the age of 17 won the tennis world with her brilliant playing.

"I want to play, but I can't," she said. "I must wait until I am entirely recovered. I don't want to be an invalid again."

"When I can play again, I'll start right in conditioning myself for championship play. I'll play in tournaments, and I'll try to win. I still want to play in competition."

News Entertainers Heard By Golfers

Semi-Monthly Party Is Held At Muny Clubhouse Last Evening

Local golfers were entertained by a group from The News office last evening, who scored a big hit as entertainers. At least if the crowd wasn't pleased, they were too polite to mention it.

The opening number on the program was a violin solo by Frida Chrysler Burkholder, accompanied by Ignacio Patersewsky Scheppele. When no windows were broken after this number, Bart Richards, C. E. Allen, Fred Scheppele, and Leonard Kisthart, shook the chandeliers with several comical melodies.

A screen was then removed from one corner of the room behind which had been concealed Clarence L. Davis, Thurston to you, who proceeded to mystify the group with a clever sleight of hand presentation. The quartet sang several more melodies and the boys regrettably returned to playing cards, after which the refreshments were served.

The Shenango Tin Mill team will have charge of the program in two weeks and promise something different for their presentation.

Rose Bowl Teams Are Hard To Pick

Princeton, Army, Duke In East And Stanford, Oregon, Southern California In West

(International News Service)

PASADENA, Calif., Nov. 23.—Princeton or Army vs Stanford or University of Southern California.

This was the foursome holding the dopest spotlight today for the national football honors in the annual Pasadena Rose Bowl game.

There was a great big if, however, attached to each of these contenders.

Princeton and Army were favored as eastern representatives if they could be interested in the invitation. Tradition stood in the way of the Princeton eleven crossing the Rockies for the contest. Army red tape needed unwinding to permit the future generals to do likewise.

Stanford needed a win Saturday over California to give the Indians an iron clad claim.

U. S. C. likewise needed a victory over Notre Dame.

And just on the edge of the spotlight and possibly basking beneath it before the week is over were Oregon and Duke.

Further defeats for Stanford and U. S. C. would make Oregon a Pacific coast conference claimant despite the 26 to 0 drubbing at the hands of U. S. C. while Duke, untied and undefeated, has perhaps a stronger claim to represent the east than any team east of the Rockies.

Always more or less scrambled, the Rose Bowl situation this year assumed the proportions of a well-beaten omelet.

Duquesne-Tech Arrange Games

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 23.—Duquesne is very much in the football spotlight these days. Following an announcement yesterday that the team would accept a challenge to play the unbeaten Miami university in Florida New Year's day, it was also announced Duquesne would meet Carnegie Tech in 1934 and 1935.

STOCKS

Stock Market

STEEL SHARES
MOSTLY QUIET

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The stock market was sluggish and irregular today with the liquor stocks subjected to consistent selling.

National Distillers and Schenley bore the brunt of the liquidation by the code announcement this morning by which the government seeks to stringently regulate the industry.

Rail and utility shares were quiet and comparatively firm with the leading issues in both groups including New York Central, Lackawanna, Consolidated Gas and North American holding in a narrow range around their previous close.

Oil shares were under some selling pressure reflecting the weakness in Ohio oil which lost nearly 2 points on a poor earnings statement.

United States Steel and other pivotal industrial shares were generally quiet and steady near their previous closing levels. Motors were slightly easier.

Specialties including United Aircraft, Allied Chemical, Johns Manville and Celanese tended toward slightly lower levels.

Strength in the dollar unsettled the commodity markets. Wheat ruled about 1 cent lower, silver declined about 1/4 cent an ounce and cotton lost about 25 cents a bale.

Bridgeville, Pa., Banker SentencedThree-Year Term For Former Vice President And Cashier
For Embezzlement

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 23.—Edwin J. Weber, 46, former vice president and cashier of the First National Bank of Bridgeville, was sentenced to three years in prison today following his plea of guilty to embezzlement charges.

Weber admitted taking $18,185 of the bank's funds when arraigned before Federal District Judge F. P.
Schoonmaker.

The embezzlement was due to manipulation of the funds to cover loans Weber had in the bank, the court was told.

BOY SCOUTS

HEAR COURSE SPEAKER
Two more good addresses were heard by the scouts of Lawrence and Mercer counties who attended the "Principles of Scoutmastership" course at Westminster college last night, Professor Elmer O. DeLancy, giving the lecture on "Educational Objectives" and Rev. A. M. Stump handling the topic "Scouting Objectives."

Professor DeLancy showed how opinions on the aims of education varied a good deal, from the days when it was thought that any study of any kind would strengthen the mind to the ideas of today, when interest is found to be a powerful aid in education.

Rev Stump speaking on "Scouting Objectives" gave some interesting stories of his own personal experiences as a scout leader, to back up the main line of his thought, "Joining a man's experience to a boy's enthusiasm" as he put it.

A substantial increase in attendance was noted and the group is now being divided up into patrols:
with John Wilson, E. D. Hawk, Elmer Timstman, O. P. Fink and Walter Roberts as patrol leaders. These men will announce their patrol members next week and then and thereafter will have charge of certain parts of the programs.

A physical examination is worth thirty bucks if you need it. And you're glad to pay that much to find out you didn't need it.

The story of the auto that forced a truck off the road is entitled to first page, top of column.—The Rochester Democrat-Chronicle.

Strict Federal Liquor Control
Plans ProposedEight Stringent Rules For Liquor Control Would Be Handed DownCONTROL CODE IS OUTLINED

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Rigid government control of the liquor industry without actual participation in the business was faced by the nation's distillers and embryo retailers today with submission of a substitute fair-practice code for distillers, distributors and retailers.

The proposed liquor control plan is embodied in an administration liquor control code offered as a substitute for the draft recently submitted by the distilling industry.

Substitute Code

A special committee appointed by President Roosevelt evolved the substitute code. Ostensibly, it is a stopgap between the effective date of repeal and the convening of congress when permanent liquor legislation is scheduled for enactment.

Government circles, however, believe the proposed control plan will become the basis for a permanent federal liquor control system.

Eight Features

The proposed code contains eight salient provisions. They are:
1. Five members of the executive arm of the government would exercise a "dictatorship" over the industry.
2. Amount of distilled spirits to be produced or stored by any present or future distiller would be dictated by the government.
3. A strict permit system requiring absolute adherence to the fair practice code would be in effect.
4. With minor exceptions, distribution would be by bottle only. The exceptions include sales to rectifiers, dispensaries or other agents of states or political subdivisions.
5. The distiller would have to keep the control administration advised on selling prices. No sales would be permitted except at the posted rates.
6. A financial interest in any retail liquor store by any distiller would be forbidden.
7. A strict pledge not to transport liquor products into dry states would be exacted from distillers.
8. Only domestic ingredients at "party" prices would be used in liquor production.

Two Distilleries Ordered ClosedTwo State Distilleries Will Close In Protest Of $2.00
State Tax

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 23.—Distilleries of the A. Overholt Company at Large, Allegheny county, and Broadford, Fayette county, were ordered closed today by R. C. Berry, resident manager.

Berry said the plants would close in protest against the $2 state tax on whisky. The order will throw 360 men out of work at Large and 210 men will be unemployed at Broadford.

The law failed to make people good, but they may cooperate a little harder when it tries to make them rich.

Lauds Mother's Aid

ZELIENOPLE, Nov. 23.—Mrs.
Elizabeth Scheler of near Porters-ville has been brought to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Stauffer of Grandview avenue, having suffered a fall at her home recently. Mrs. Scheler is 87 years of age, and fell in her room at her home and was unable to attract the attention of her son for some time, and is suffering greatly from the accident. She received several bad bruises, but fortunately no bones were broken. Her condition is now improving. She was brought to the home of her daughter after the accident.

Woman, Aged 93,
Is Critically Ill

ZELIENOPLE, Nov. 23.—Mrs.
Anna Bauder, who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Walter Lutz of Harmony is very ill. Mrs. Bauder is the oldest resident of this community having recently celebrated her 93rd birthday. She is the widow of Nicholas Bauder, formerly of Portersville. Members of the family have been called to her bedside on account of her critical condition.
Mrs. Anna Bauder of Ellwood City was summoned yesterday.

ORANGE LADIES

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 23.—Ladies of the Loyal Orange Lodge will hold their semi-monthly meeting in the Schweizer Hall on Friday evening at 7:30 p. m. An attendance and membership contest will be started at this time. After the lodge meeting a fine entertainment will be presented. Then games and bingo will be enjoyed by the members and their friends. Lunch will be served by a committee.

WILL ELECT OFFICERS

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 23.—The annual election of officers will be an important feature of the regular meeting of the Pleasant Hill Grange this evening, and tomorrow evening officers will be elected at the North Sewickley Grange Hall on the Ellwood-Beaver Falls road when they convene for their bi-weekly meeting.

Miss Grace Abbott

Twenty-two years ago Illinois passed a mother's aid law. It gave help to needy mothers and enabled them to care for their children in their own homes. Since then, declares Miss Grace Abbott, head of the children's bureau of the United States department of labor, all of the 48 states, except Georgia and South Carolina, provide public care for children who have been deprived of their father's support.

Miss Helen Rock

Charming Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 23.—Dispensing charming hospitality Miss Helen Rock received the members of the C. F. N. club last night at her home for their regular meeting.

A delicious sateer kraut supper inaugurated the events of the evening. Later two tables of bridge were in play. Mrs. James Shirk, Mrs.
Wid. Herr, and Miss Edna Lucas were found to be the winners of the awards at the conclusion of the games.

The next meeting of the club will take place in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Shirk on Second street.

Roll your doughnuts while still hot in powdered maple sugar and cinnamon. This will add a new and delicious flavor.

Route Taken by Settle Balloon

After soaring through the stratosphere to 55,000 feet, the balloon of Lieut. Com. Thomas G. Settle, U. S. N., and Major Chester L. Fordney of Marine Corps, landed in swamp lands near Bridgeton, N. J. May shows course of air explorers from starting point, Akron, O. distance of about 400 miles.

BRIDES, ANCIENT, MODERN, MEET

Marion Ashmun, 1933 bride, and Alice Mae Green.

A staid young bride of England in 1858 is portrayed by Gretchen Roberts, left, Midland college (Fremont, Neb.) co-ed, wearing her great-grandmother's wedding gown in a school pageant. Her attendant, little Mary Ellen Ely, wears a child's dress of 60 years ago, and bears 200 years old. At the right, Marion Ashmun impersonates the bride of 1933, swathed in lustrous white satin, while her attendant, Alice Mae Green, is attired in a strictly up-to-the-minute bridesmaid's frock and carries a floral wand.

Fine Meeting Held
By Mission SocietyInteresting Program Carried Out At Monthly Session In Presbyterian Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 23.—An enjoyable meeting was held Wednesday afternoon when the Women's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church held its regular session in its rooms. A good turnout marked the affair.

The dinner committee for this meeting was composed of Mrs. T. L.
Haines, Mrs. George B. Wilson,
Mrs. Louis Nickum and Mrs. S. C.
Dodd.

Vice President Mrs. George Dam-bach presided on the occasion in the absence of President Mrs. Anna Baker. The devotions were in charge of Mrs. J. Jay Dunn. Mrs. J. D.
Kirk had charge of the program and was assisted by Mrs. E. B. Yahn.
An interesting letter was read from Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, missionaries in Japan, by Mrs. A. M.
Stevenson. Mrs. John Brennen followed with a letter from Miss Mc-Callum, community worker in Utah.

An important business meeting was then held. One outstanding feature was the decision that each member of the church should receive some kind of a special invitation to attend a thank offering service to be held Sunday evening. A special playlet will be given at this time under the direction of Mrs. H. R. Wilson. The society will meet again in one month.

Miss Helen Rock
Charming Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 23.—Dispensing charming hospitality Miss Helen Rock received the members of the C. F. N. club last night at her home for their regular meeting.

A delicious sateer kraut supper inaugurated the events of the evening. Later two tables of bridge
were in play. Mrs. James Shirk, Mrs.
Wid. Herr, and Miss Edna Lucas
were found to be the winners of the awards at the conclusion of the games.

The next meeting of the club will take place in two weeks at the home
of Mrs. Shirk on Second street.

Big Floor Squad
Training HereEllwood High Will Have Veteran Team On Floor
This Year

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 23.—Lincoln gymnasium has been the scene of intensive activity every day after school this week as scores of candidates are trying out for the Ellwood City High's 1933-34 basketball team.
Coach "Gandy" Benedict's first call for candidates Monday resulted in a response of 108 aspirants. Before the first session was over this was cut down to 60. Practice sessions for the past three days have been conducted with this number.

In another week or so a varsity squad of 10 and a reserve squad of about 20 will be selected.

Ellwood High is expected to be represented by a veteran team on the floor this year. All of last year's varsity and reserve team have reported to Coach Benedict. Only Captain Davy Bolotin was lost by graduation. Of the team that finished the season there is Tony Scopelite and MacPadden forwards, Bunny, Ungum, Vinski, guards and Tammara center. There is also Ray Lattaro, Sungo Vandrella, and Nick Herman who saw considerable action last year, but become ineligible later. Promising candidates from last season's reserve team are Eli Marcus, Alex Robuck, Lee Shirey, Mike Kraynak, Chink Lamenzo and Leo Wartenberg.

The practice session for the first two weeks will consist of learning the fundamentals, such as passing, plying, cutting and shooting. Light and short scrimmages will be held in order to try several combinations and get a line on the season's prospects.

KOPPEL

BRIDE-ELECT ENTERTAINED

Miss Blanche Hoyt, of College Hill, entertained a number of friends recently at her home in honor of Miss Day, Koppel road, who will become the bride of Paul Aley, of Wampum this month. There were about 20 guests present at the affair, among them were Miss Day's associates from the Babcock-Wilcox company where she was employed.

The feature of the evening was the serving of a covered dish dinner with attractive appointments. The following hours of the evening were devoted to cards, four tables of bridge being in play.

KOPPEL NOTES

Paul Gaylor, Mars, has returned to his home in that place after spending some time in Koppel where he was employed. He plans to begin work soon in East Palestine, Ohio.

France Faces Budget Crisis

Will Force Vote On Sarraut's Budget Program In Chamber

FRANC SHOWS NEW WEAKNESS

(International News Service)
PARIS, Nov. 23.—The long expected French governmental crisis, accentuated by a decided weakness in the franc, drew rapidly to a climax today as the chamber of deputies suddenly decided to force a vote on the Sarraut cabinet's budget program.

While the government faced almost a certain defeat on the issue, the position of the franc became involved with what is termed by the press as a "foreign attack" and a steady drain of gold to London.

The government in a valiant struggle succeeded in stalling off the vote until tonight, when it will be called. The hostile chamber, under the lead of opposition chiefs, attempted to get an immediate vote as soon as it convened at 9:30 a. m.

Just prior to adjournment the government scored a minor victory when the chamber voted down a Socialist counter-proposal to balance the budget on the basis of nationalization of public utilities. The vote was 410 to 138.

Drain Tile Put In At Muny Course

Fairways On One And Two Holes Will Be In Better Shape Next Spring

Several thousand feet of drain tile are being put in place on the fairways of Holes one and two in an effort to remedy conditions which held up play for almost a month last year.

During May, which was unusually rainy these two fairways proved to be almost a swamp and few golfers braved conditions. As a result, the course lost considerable revenue.

Installation of the drain tile, is expected to remedy this and make playing conditions better.

Rural Thespians Compete Monday

Third Annual Dramatic Tournament Will Be Held In Shenango High

Arrangements have been completed for the third annual dramatic tournament for rural organizations, which will be held Monday evening.

at 8 o'clock, in Shehango High school.

Three groups from the county are competing this year. New Bedford Grange will present "The Toy Heart," coached by Miss Leslie Dingley; Big Beaver Grange, coached by Mrs. Gus Miller, will give "Submerged;" while the East Brook Parent Teachers Association, coached by Florence Glasgow, will give "God."

The two selected as best from the groups will compete against two similar organizations from Venango County in a district meeting to be held at Slippery Rock, December 6, from which one organization will be chosen to represent the district in a state-wide competition.

East New Castle Grange Opposes County Projects

Vigorous opposition to the proposed construction of a new Lawrence county court house and Croton viaduct here was expressed in a resolution which members of the East New Castle grange adopted this week.

The grange protest read: "We the members of East New Castle grange, note with alarm, the reckless spending of public money, both state and federal, and whereas our county commissioners are contemplating borrowing money from the federal government for the purpose of erecting a new court house and also a viaduct.

"Be it resolved, by the East New Castle Grange No. 1536, that we vigorously oppose the building of a new court house and viaduct at this time.

The resolution was signed by Master W. E. Currie and Secretary Maude Reno.

Eastern Prison Is Quiet Today

Exhausted After Night Of Bedlam; 92 Prisoners Are Quiet Today

CELLS WRECKED BY ANGRY MEN

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—Exhausted after a night of bedlam during which they wrecked a cell block where they had been segregated, the 92 prisoners held as ringleaders of Tuesday afternoon's riot at the eastern state penitentiary became quiet early today.

A thorough inquiry into the rioting that has been prevalent at the penitentiary since last September was promised by Gov. Gifford Pinchot.

Although reports persisted that several convicts had been seriously injured or wounded in Tuesday's outbreak, Warden Herbert J. (Hard-Boiled) Smith denied them.

The convicts in cell block 14 last night smashed their wash basins, ripped out heating and plumbing pipes and wrecked the furniture. For hours they beat a mad tattoo on the bars of their cells with broken sections of pipe, raising a clamor that was heard over the walls.

WILLARD GRANGE OPPOSES BONDS

Willard Grange, No. 1440 by a motion regularly made and passed, went on record as being opposed to any bond indebtedness to build a new court house. They are also against the proposed viaduct from Croton to the north hill.

The Grange asks if the thirty per cent expense, which is paid by the federal government, is not paid by the taxpayers.

The committee, representing the Grange, is composed of S. J. Hunt, Scott Munnell and Everett Boak.

TELLS OF A. L. A.

Temple Israel Friday Services

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Gonick Will Be Hosts To Congregation After Worship

Temple Israel, on Highland and Moody avenues, will conduct its next regular service on Friday evening, November 24, at 8 p. m., with one of the members reading the service in the absence of Rabbi Avery Jonah Grossfield from the city.

The Saturday morning program includes religious school classes between 9:30 and 11 o'clock, and religious services between 11 and 12 o'clock. Lillian Rubin of Class V will take part in reading the prayers. Mrs. Norman Ehrlich, teacher of Class V will act as superintendent of the religious school in the absence of Rabbi Grossfield from the city.

Rabbi A. Grossfield will occupy the pulpit of Temple Beth-El, Steubenville, Ohio on Friday evening November 24 where she will speak in behalf of the Union of American Hebrew congregations, which conducts an Annual Tour of Rabbin. He expects to return Saturday afternoon or evening.

After the Friday evening service, the members and friends will enjoy an hour of fellowship in the vestry rooms of the Temple; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Gonick will act as hosts for the evening.

Evangelist Will Give Illustrated Sermon Friday Eve

Evangelist Jackie Burris, who is conducting evangelistic services in the tabernacle on South Mill street, will have an illustrated sermon Friday evening at 7:30.

He has chosen "Ship Aho!" as his sermon theme and the platform will be arranged as a ship, with the choir as sailors and the evangelist will preach from the helm of a ship.

Sunday evening at 7:30 he will have another illustrated sermon on "Substitutionary Atonement" illustrating how atonement for sin is brought out in the whole Bible. Services are held each evening at 7:30 with a song period preceding the sermon.

C. C. HARRY'S MOTHER IMPROVED

Mrs. J. W. Harry, of Merger, mother of C. C. Harry of this city, who was injured last week in an automobile accident on the Perry Highway, is reported as somewhat improved.

Mrs. Harry was enroute to Florida, with friends, when the machine in which she was riding, was involved in an accident. She is suffering from several fractured ribs and shock. Because of her advanced age of 79 years, her condition is serious.

Most fatal auto accidents occur between 7 and 8 p. m.

British Plan To Combat Drop Of American Dollar

(International News Service)
LONDON, Nov. 23.—The British government is considering procedure for protective action in the event of further sharp depreciation in the dollar. International News Service learned today with the first official indication President Roosevelt's monetary policies are affecting inter-European trade.

A rate of $5.50 to the pound is being mentioned in official circles as the point where Britain should intervene, but decision will depend upon trade reports which the treasury is studying to determine actual trade damage resulting from Washington's dollar activities.

Specialists say:

"GIVE YOUR CHILDREN A LIQUID LAXATIVE"

You wouldn't give your child a powerful headache powder; you shouldn't give children a violent cathartic.

Did you know a laxative that works just right for you, can work havoc with a child?

That the laxative habit can be contracted at the age of six?

And that the wrong laxative can give children chronic constipation before their tenth birthday?

Read this, Mothers!

Doctors urge the use of a liquid laxative for children; preferably one with senna. A liquid laxative can be easily regulated to suit. The natural laxative action of senna does not weaken the bowels.

Druggists report increasing demand for liquid laxatives. Mothers are rapidly discovering the advantage of the liquid form. Thousands of cases of ill-health—and half-health—in boys and girls are being cleared-up by stopping all use of laxatives of adult strength.

This Treatment Safe!

The preparation widely favored for child use is California Syrup of Figs. It is a fruity syrup with the right amount of senna for gentle stimulation of a child's bowels. It gives the right kind of help.

If the bowels aren't moving regularly and thoroughly, don't give any medicine that drains the system dry. Give a liquid senna preparation like California Syrup of Figs. A little every day, and reduce the dose each day. At the end of one week—stop. You'll be surprised how long it will be before the bowels need any further help. It may be months.

Be sure you get the real California Syrup of Figs, with "California" on the label. If you get the right preparation, and use it the right way, you can absolutely end all worry over constant sluggish spells, bilious attacks, constipation.

Druggists all keep California Syrup of Figs, ready for use. It is highly recommended for regulating children, and to undo the mischief done by habit-forming laxatives.
